Post-Election Developments in New York State

Won Because Accomplishments Known: Rocky O'Connor Stakes Claim to Titular Leadership

NEW YORK (AP) — Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller says he won re-election because he had acquainted the voters with his record and because his Democratic opponent, Frank D. O'Connor, did not have a program and "never convinced the people he was a viable alternative."

O'Connor says he thinks "money had a lot to do with it. We should have had more ads."

He says, however, that the biggest factor in his defeat was "a rising trend towards conservatism."

The City Council president, angry over his trouncing in Tuesday's election, also said in an interview Thursday that Rockefeller "did an awful lot of rough and nasty things at the end."

"He made ridiculous charges — charges I couldn't believe the people would listen to. But obviously some of them did," O'Connor added.

O'Connor, at a news conference, claimed titular leadership of the Democratic party in New York State.

He said he does not expect to become involved in a leadership brawl with Sen. Robert F. Kennedy.

Will Summon Leaders

"I intend to exercise a leadership role in the party as its titular head," he said, adding that he soon will call a meeting of party leaders. Kennedy has been widely considered the party's top man in the state for some time.

Other postelection developments.

Calls were made for an immediate rebuilding of the Democratic party in the state as its stunning defeat was appraised. Among those who demanded revamping of the party setup were Howard J. Samuels, Canandaigua industrialist who was the candidate for lieutenant governor, and Ren. Samuel S. Stratton of Amsterdam.

The Liberal party claimed credit for the election of four congressmen and five state legislators.

—New York Mayor John V. Lindsay said he has no intention of seeking higher political office in 1968. He renewed his pledge to serve his full four-year term, which runs through 1969.

Asked whether he would be a presidential or vice presidential nomination in 1968, Lindsay said: "Thanks for the compliment, but no thanks."

Rockefeller, who was working to clean up his desk before a 10-day vacation in Puerto Rico, said in an interview that he never had any personal animosity toward O'Connor, but he does not believe the reverse is true.

"I like the guy, and I think everyone else does," the governor added.

Rocky Notes Strategy

The governor said a three-part strategy was employed in his campaign: (1) to "get my administration's accomplishments" known to the people; (2) to come up with new proposals; (3) "to accumulate my opponent's errors, and when we got

Continue Countdown For Gemini

Manned Capsule To Liftoff 3:46

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — The countdown for the finale in America's Gemini project, a major bridge to the moon, swept smoothly today toward the start of a four-day adventure that may determine man's physical limitations in space.

Lights burned green at Gemini 12 launch pad consoles and around the world as technicians, their skills honed sharp by nine straight successful manned launches, methodically checked out every system.

Titan Is Thruster

The 100-foot-tall Titan that will thrust a veteran astronaut and a space rookie into the sky was loaded with more than 200,000 pounds of fuel in fast time of three hours and 21 minutes.

The pilots, Navy Capt. James A. Lovell Jr. and Air Force Maj. Edwin E. Aldrin Jr., slept late after getting to bed at 2 a.m. They were adjusting to the swing shift work cycle their demanding flight plan requires.

The sun sparkled through cloudless blue skies at dawn. Forecasters said launch pad weather would be nearly perfect at 2:08 p.m. EST when the doubleheader launching was scheduled to start with the liftoff of an Agena target satellite.

Lovell and Aldrin were to ride into space at 3:46 p.m. atop a Titan 2 to start the five-mile-a-second pursuit of the Agena.

Troubles with an automatic pilot system in the Titan 2 forced the original Wednesday launch date to slip 48 hours.

Problems Cleared

The problems were cleared up Thursday and the National Aeronautics and Space Administration flashed the go-ahead for the mission to start today.

While sweeping 58 times around the globe in their tiny space chariot, command pilot Lovell, veteran of last year's 14-day Gemini 7 flight, and Aldrin.

Democrats to Control State Constitutional Convention

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — The Republicans have Rockefeller in Albany and a majority in the state senate, but Democrats will control the potentially powerful state Constitutional Convention next year.

Because the GOP failed to gain a majority of convention delegates, many political observers theorized that voters in last Tuesday's election either split their tickets or did not enough of them we answered one every day."

Rockefeller said that a big initial campaign problem he faced was to overcome resentment of the 2 per cent state sales tax he sponsored and the opposition by many persons to the Medicaid program.

Asked whether he thinks his divorce was a factor in the election, he started shaking his head before the question was finished, and said: "I don't think so at all."

Asked what he would have done if he had lost the election, Rockefeller said: "I have so many interests I could be dropped in a village of 400 and could spend an exciting life trying to redo things."

O'Connor, in an interview at City Hall, showed flashes of bitterness when he talked about Rockefeller and Alex Rose, vice chairman and chief strategist of the Liberal party, which ran Franklin D. Roosevelt Jr. for governor.

He said that five days before

Resnick Letter Requests Fitzsimmons Dismissal For Action in Liuni Case

Denies State Sanction in Liuni Move

State Commissioner of Special Welfare George Wyman today assured Lt. Mario Biaggi, president of the 80,000-member Grand Council of Columbia Associations in Civil Service, that a statement made Wednesday by Ulster County Welfare Commissioner Joseph Fitzsimmons to the effect that Commissioner Wyman had approved Fitzsimmons' handling of a Kingston adoption proceeding was not true. The Grand Council is composed of 42 organizations whose members are Italo-American civil service workers.

Said Wyman, speaking from Chicago, "In the first place, home rule is involved and I have no authority to approve his handling of the case."

Biaggi, a former New York State assistant secretary of state and New York City's most decorated policeman, had taken exception to what he termed a "self-serving, white-washing statement" by Fitzsimmons which gave the impression the state commissioner had approved Fitzsimmons' injection of an ethnic question into the case, which involved the application by a 48-year-old Italo-American couple to adopt their 4½-year-old foster child.

Among other reasons for opposing adoption Fitzsimmons cited the fact that the foster child is light-complexioned while the foster parents are darker skinned Italo-Americans.

After registering his protest with Wyman on the case, which is now pending in the Appellate Division, Biaggi wrote to Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller and to the State Commission on Human Rights, demanding an investigation into all the circumstances of the adoption proceeding as well as an inquiry into the qualifications of Commissioner Fitzsimmons to hold his position.

"His only professional qualifications, as far as I can determine," said Biaggi, "is that he is a former bus driver who now runs a garbage service."

"What we have here," Biaggi wrote the governor, "is a pattern of gross incompetence, a disgraceful and shocking lack of discretion, and a complete disregard for the rights and sensibilities not only of the small, innocent child, who has already become the primary victim, but the Liuni family and the entire Italo-American community. I realize that home rule is in-

Nation Pays Tribute To Living, Dead Vets

WASHINGTON AP—The nation pays solemn tribute today to the 35.7 million veterans—living and dead—of wars from the Revolution to Viet Nam.

In a ceremony that has become symbolic of Veterans Day observances, Gen. Wallace M. Greene, Marine Corps commandant representing President Johnson, places a wreath at the Tomb of the Unknown Soldiers in Arlington National Cemetery.

There, on a hillside overlooking Washington, and in other cemeteries from coast to coast, the living honor the dead with booming gun salutes, the muffled roll of drums, the playing of taps and a moment of silence.

In cities and villages across the country, many of America's 20 million living veterans gather for parades and speeches. For many workers and students it is a holiday.

It was 48 years ago at 11 a. m. on Nov. 11, 1918—that guns fell silent on the Western Front and the armistice ending World War I went into effect.

In 1919 President Woodrow Wilson proclaimed Nov. 11 as Armistice Day to remind Americans of the tragedies of war. In 1954, Congress changed the name to Veterans Day to honor those who fought in all of America's wars.

Other countries, such as Great Britain and France, also observe Nov. 11 as Armistice Day. And in the Arlington ceremonies, officials of six foreign embassies—Belgium, France, Britain, Israel Italy and Mexico—present flaming torches as a tribute from their countries.

4,000 Go to Front; Enemy Toll Put at 900

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — U.S. commanders sent another brigade of 4,000 men to the Tay Ninh front today as the reported enemy toll in just over a week of fighting rose to 900 dead.

An estimated 25,000 or more

Americans have been committed to the operation to root out the enemy from the Viet Cong stronghold 60 miles northwest of Saigon near the Cambodian border.

An American military spokesman reported the operation, named Attleboro, is "the largest U.S. action" of the Viet Nam war.

Benedictine Will Participate in Aussie Conference

Benedictine Hospital, along with the Department of Postgraduate Medicine of the Albany Medical College, will participate in a two-way radio conference with the University of Sydney in Australia on Monday, Nov. 28, from 7:30 to 8:30 p. m.

This announcement was made jointly by Sister Mary Charles, O.S.B., and Edwin B. Bolz, co-administrators and Dr. John Olivet, medical director of the hospital.

One of 10 in Area

They continued, "The Benedictine Hospital is one of only ten invited in this area of the country to participate in this unique program. The topic under discussion during this hour will be The Rehabilitation of Patients With Myocardial Infarction."

"The usual format will prevail, namely, a formal presentation, followed by questions which will be heard in Australia and answered by the faculty 'down under.' In Australia the time will be Tuesday, Nov. 29, 10:30 a. m.

"All area physicians are invited to attend this unique event as well as to actively participate in the question period. An invitation is also extended to all interested nurses and paramedical personnel in the area to come and listen in on this particular conference. The conference will be held in the first floor, south wing, staff lounge of Benedictine Hospital."

"In conclusion, the Benedictine

U.S. Casualties Light

U.S. ground forces reported killing 20 Viet Cong in new fighting and finding 15 more bodies of enemy killed in earlier fighting to bring the Communist toll to 900. U.S. casualties for the operation were still reported light over-all, although some units were hit hard in the early fighting.

152 bombers supported the ground forces with attacks on Viet Cong base camps today for the second straight day. The bombers dropped their bombs 25 miles northeast of Tay Ninh City.

In the Mekong Delta, the Viet Cong launched a mortar, rocket and small arms attack on a dependents' camp of Vietnamese regional forces and killed or wounded 46 South Vietnamese, most of them wives or children of militiamen stationed in the provincial capital of Chuong Thien, 102 miles southwest of Saigon.

Two Leaving Ky Rule

On the political front, Premier Nguyen Cao Ky announced that two more cabinet ministers were leaving his government. This brought to four the numbers of ministers who have resigned in weeks of disension between civilian cabinet ministers from South Viet Nam and the natives of North Viet Nam who dominate Ky's military junta.

The resignations raised no immediate threat to Ky's government. Ky and the other generals of the junta hold the power, and the civilians in the cabinet have a mostly advisory role.

Bad weather again curtailed the air war against North Viet Nam Thursday. U.S. pilots flew 83 bombing missions, about half the usual number on a good day.

Plan Solution Of Jail Problem

The anticipated appearance of Congressman Joseph Y. Resnick before the Ulster County Board of Supervisors Thursday night to urge the board to dismiss County Commissioner of Public Welfare Joseph Fitzsimmons because of the manner in which he had handled the Liuni adoption case, failed to materialize.

Instead Congressman Resnick had delivered to each supervisor shortly after the meeting was called to order, a letter enclosing a copy of a letter which he had sent to Chairman Charles Relyea in which he urged "that you take the necessary steps to dismiss Mr. Joseph Fitzsimmons as Ulster County Commissioner as quickly as possible."

50 Attended

Approximately 50 persons, apparently interested in the Liuni matter, were present when the meeting was called to order. However, only one attempted to be heard and she was denied the privilege of the floor when County Attorney Abram F. Molyneux ruled that since the board of supervisors was a legislative body, not judicial, and the matter was presently in the courts, it would be inadvisable to discuss the adoption matter before the board and he advised Chairman Relyea to deny the privilege of the floor for such discussion.

County Attorney Molyneux was requested to give an opinion on the matter after Supervisor Gerald DeFelicis had requested the privilege of the floor for Mrs. M. McEvoy, a neighbor of the Liuni family who has headed a committee which sought the intervention of Congressman Resnick in the matter.

Chairman Relyea remarked that he assumed the request for the floor for Mrs. McEvoy was in reference to "the adoption matter" and he remarked that he was "sorry but the matter is in the courts." At this point the opinion of County Attorney Molyneux was sought.

Molyneux held that since the board of supervisors was a legislative body and "the matter is now the courts for review," it would be unwise to discuss the matter at this stage and he advised Chairman Relyea that he was the chairman of the board had the power to refuse the privilege of the floor if he so sought.

Denied Request

Chairman Relyea then denied the request of Supervisor DeFelicis and remarked that there apparently were others present at the meeting who sought to be

While on his way home from college to attend the wedding of his sister, Donald Teal Jr., 17, of West Road, Pleasant Valley, was killed at 12:30 a. m. today in a traffic accident on Route 44 (Dutchess Turnpike) Town of Pleasant Valley.

Rhinebeck State Police investigated and reported Teal died of a crushed chest and fractured larynx.

According to state police, Teal was driving west on the highway during a heavy rain when he lost control on a curve. His car crossed over to the eastbound lane and collided with the right front of a car operated by Marlene Schussler, 32, of Route 44, Pleasant Valley, who was traveling east. The woman was taken

Rail Club Starts Last Three Nights Of Annual Show

Tonight, Saturday and Sunday will mark the final runs for 1966 of the miniature railroad system now on public exhibition at 541 Broadway, off the Broadway Underpass with car entrance over Pine Grove Avenue and Susan Street. Night shows will be from 7 to 9 p. m., with Sunday's running from 2:30 to 9 p. m.

President Lewis R. Wallace of the Kingston Model Railroad Club Inc., said today that the annual exhibitions are the result of constant effort on the part of the model engineers over a period of 29 years to produce a smoothly running railroad in quarter inch scale reproduction.

Most Custom Built

Wallace further pointed out that visitors at the club are amazed at the layout and the minute detail involved. He said that all too often visitors either have the idea that the equipment is a toy or else it is something that is packed up after an exhibition and unpacked a year later. "Neither is the case," remarked the club leader, who indicated that most of the equipment is custom-built by members of the club who also fashion the scenery out of odds and ends of materials.

Another interesting fact, according to Wallace, is the coordination necessary to produce and operate a club layout. Club members responsible for the closely-knit schedule of activities necessary to bring the layout to exhibition stage include Claude Williams and Lewis Wallace, electrical and signal systems; Phillips Eighmey, Gerard White and Walter Phillips, locomotive department; Seymour Bias, Jeffrey Cole, and Allan Haysom, switch circuits; Walter Sharp and Vincent Ahrens, car department; Lewis DeGraff, buildings; Henry P. Eighmey and David W. Eighmey, scenery; and the Rev. W. K. Haysom, Wallace Palen, and Roger Snyder, track department. Other members of the club "fill-in" in various capacities to make the "Hudson Valley Lines" a continually growing miniature railroad layout.

The last train for the 1966 exhibition will run Sunday, Nov. 13, at 9 p. m., bringing to a close the annual public presentation of the model railroad club.

DO YOU REMEMBER

By Sophie Miller

Progress is wonderful for those who profit by it. Much has been demolished in the name of progress, when in truth it was for personal gain, and so landmark after landmark is destroyed. If you want to see the old DeWaal Tavern, which stood on North Front Street you have to open Judge Clearwater's history of Ulster County. The famous historian, who they say was able to translate records from the Dutch, gave the DeWaal Tavern a full glossy page in his book. The powers that be, took it down in haste, to make way for a parking lot. I have yet to see these both parking lots on North Front Street filled, and the other one on Clinton Avenue did not do so good either. Of course cars have to park somewhere, as one can see at the Kingston Shopping Plaza where there are no meters. Perhaps if the De Waal Tavern had been left untouched by the hand of man, and its large fireplaces uncovered, and its hand-hewn beams. There could have been a concession and rest room and information booth, which perhaps would have brought customers to that area, and they could have still had their wonderful parking lot.

Ever so many people have talked to me about the bulldozing of School No. 3. I think the chimney is still standing and possibly can be seen from Broadway. I do hope every effort is made to save the wooden covered Perrines Bridge. I was just given the 1966 New York State Vacation Areas booklet full of colored pictures, put out by New York State, and how they stress history of New York State. Incidentally there is not one picture of any Kingston, N. Y. building in it, although Kingston was the first capital of New York State.

I guess Kingston and Ulster County have so many landmarks that even the planners and progress makers go about taking down structures we still have some left over, but how long can this go on. Now they speak of Kingston Point Park, with a Marine Museum in the Rondout Lighthouse. That is excellent, and I am sure those who live up and down the Hudson would make the trip to come and visit it. But again the destroyers want to take the lighthouse down now, and leave some little thing low in the water.

Around five in the evening I went up to the top of Hasbrouck Park overlooking the Rondout Creek and the Hudson and saw the handsome little lighthouse, standing bravely at the creek. There is a bluish light in the lighthouse which goes on and off and can be seen clearly from the top of Hasbrouck Park, perhaps some two miles away. There is also that low thing in the water with a light on it, and it is difficult to see. What happens on a foggy night, only the boatmen can tell. If this is progress I cannot see it.

This Rondout Lighthouse, according to my own files, I saw an item in the Jan. 13, 1914 Freeman that Powley Co. were driving piles for the foundation, at the mouth of Rondout Creek. Contract was awarded to the Bannan Co. and the Michaud Co. of Kingston. Forty foot piles were sunk which were to be surrounded by steel into which concrete was to be poured to form a good foundation. This structure is only some 50 years old, and I cannot see why it should be removed to make way for that little thing low in the water which to my way of thinking cannot be seen well at all, even on a clear day. I hope my readers will tell me more about the construction and history of the Rondout Lighthouse so perhaps it can be saved and used for a Marine Museum.

Scientists Plan For Trip to See Eclipse of Sun

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP) — Five planeloads of U.S. scientists are making final preparations for flights over the South Atlantic to observe a total eclipse of the sun Saturday.

In a dress rehearsal Wednesday, three converted C135 cargo jets took off from Buenos Aires and joined planes from Rio de Janeiro and Porto Alegre, Brazil, over the ocean.

The plane will serve as flying laboratories Saturday while the scientists study the sun during the brief period when the moon blocks its blazing light.

With cameras, photometers, infrared rays, ultraviolet light and much other equipment, the scientists plan to measure radiation, polarization, brightness, infrared bands, corona intensity and other solar and lunar information.

The Buenos Aires plane — from Sandia Laboratory at Albuquerque, N.M., and from laboratories at Los Alamos, N.M., and Livermore, Calif. — will meet over the Atlantic off the Brazilian port of Rio Grande do Sul, then all five planes will wing out southeast following the total eclipse and turning due east to a point nearly south of Montevideo, Uruguay.

There, they will check location against the sun and return to Buenos Aires with loads of statistics and pictures that will take months to analyze.

Planes flying at jet speed at 33,000 feet have advantages in sun study over ground experiments, being free of clouds, dust and other haze of the lower atmosphere.

BABSON on BUSINESS

By ROGER W. BABSON

CHRISTMAS SALES

Babson Park, Mass., Nov. 11—Marketing and sales people seem confident about Christmas business. Most of them believe that this year's holiday sales will set new records in both physical and dollar volume. Their optimism is warranted.

How Retail Trade Is Faring

Retail sales this year have not consistently shown the same upthrust as in 1965, but the trend has been generally encouraging. The cumulative total since January 1 topped that for the same period a year earlier by 9 per cent. An even better record was chalked up by department store sales, which were 14 per cent above those attained in the corresponding 1965 period. Without doubt, both retail sales and department-store sales for 1966 as a whole will better those of 1965 by wide margins.

Outcome of the congressional elections should not have any marked effect on retail sales prospects or on results in November and December. Nor will the tight money and credit situation do more than curb the degree of upturn.

Employment and Unemployment

Confidence that holiday business will be good is bolstered by the current very favorable employment-unemployment ratio, as well as by a still rising trend in personal income. At present the number of the nation's employed tops the year-ago level by 1.8 million and is close to the all-time record, while only 3 1/2 per cent of the labor force is unemployed. Between now and year's end, there ought to be at least a normal seasonal rise in employment and we forecast that unemployment will be further downshaded.

Meanwhile, total salary and wage income is moving higher, reflecting the tenor of recent settlements with managements. The continued rise in salary and wage flow of overtime payments as the income also reflects a sustained factory work week holds somewhat above 41 hours on average.

Income and Purchasing Power

At recent date, personal income in the U.S. was at a seasonally adjusted annual rate of $589.5 billion—up $37 billion, or 6.7 per cent from the comparable month a year ago when the total had been boosted sharply by a $10.7-billion lump-sum retroactive payment of social security increases. More important even than this mighty gain in over-all income is the fact that the rise exceeds price increases. This is a reversal of what was happening in the forepart of this year when prices were rising faster than wages, salaries, pensions, and other income payments.

A survey of economic indicators suggests that both total personal income and income after taxes will make further gains in the final months of this year. This continued upturn will permit consumer buying to be one of the chief supports of the economy. In other words, consumer purchasing power—which is still close to record levels—could show some further expansion.

A Word of Caution

While we confidently predict record 1966 holiday sales and feel that at least a 7 per cent boost in dollar volume versus a year ago is fully attainable, this will not come about automatically. Nor will it be achieved by all retailers. Despite near-record employment, there are some areas of high unemployment. Despite near-record industrial production, there are some manufacturing companies that are not doing as well as they did a year ago.

Also, it should be pointed out that price rises will account for a larger percentage of the 1966 sales gains than was the case a year ago and that profit margins will tend to narrow for those merchandisers who do not clamp a tight control on costs. In addition to clothes and toys, the items that should move best at Christmastime are recreational equipment, color-TV, furniture, and home appliances.

TODAY IN HISTORY

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today is Friday, Veteran's Day, Nov. 11, the 315th day of 1966. There are 50 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1918, an armistice was signed and World War I was ended.

On this date:

In 1889, the State of Washington was admitted to the Union.

In 1932, Secretary of War Patrick J. Hurley dedicated the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier at Arlington National Cemetery in Washington.

In 1942, the Germans occupied all France.

In 1944, the American Third Army was driving toward the Nazi stronghold of Metz, France.

Ten years ago — Yugoslav President Tito delivered a heated attack against what he called the Stalinist position of the Soviet Union. His remarks touched off a new feud between himself and the Kremlin.

Five years ago—Fire officials said a brush fire in Southern California which started Nov. 6 had destroyed 460 homes and caused some $25 million in damage in the exclusive Belair-Brentwood suburb of Los Angeles in the Santa Monica Mountains.

One year ago—The white minority government of Rhodesia declared its independence from Great Britain. The British called it an act of treason and applied economic sanctions on Rhodesia.

The lowest street in Mexico City is more than a mile higher in altitude than the topmost point of New York City's skyscrapers.

HINTS FROM Heloise

Dear Folks:

If you are one of those who are fortunate enough to have a doughboard (some call it a breadboard), but it is so worn, scratched and stained that if you had it sanded, it would be too thin...

Why not go to a lumber yard and buy a thin sheet of plastic counter top board and have it cut the exact size of the doughboard?

Or, better yet (you can't possibly make a mistake this way), put the board in your car so you will have it with you the next time you are near a lumber yard. Take it in and ask THEM to cut a piece of the plastic the size you need.

When you return home, fasten the plastic piece to the top of that glorious doughboard with six or eight tiny nails.

This will make a clean and neat cutting board. You will find it worth every penny you have spent.

If you ask for a SCRAP board, you will get it for about one-fourth the regular price. Even if you buy a piece that does not match the color scheme in your kitchen, it makes no difference, as the board is usually stored out of sight when not in use.

You will love your rejuvenated doughboard.

Oh, how I only wish we wives could rejuvenate ourselves.

..... Heloise

Dear Heloise:

I used to keep all my patches and sewing scraps for quilt pieces in one large bag. Now I have found a better and quicker way to find the piece I want.

I sorted all the scraps, such as gingham, prints, silk, velvet, and so on, and put them in separate plastic bags which vegetables and other things come in.

I can pick out the bag I want, and find the scrap much quicker.

..... Mrs. G.P.J.

Dear Heloise:

Every time I see a small, red ball or a flower stuck on a car antennae, I think, "There goes another Heloise reader!"

Every parking lot I go to I see your flags flying.

..... J. O.

Dear Heloise:

I am a young housewife and mother who lives in a small apartment.

As you can guess, I am quite limited for space, but I have come up with an idea for those pretty cardboard facial tissue boxes without the names on them.

I keep one in the bathroom on the window sill to hold my comb, brush, mirror and packet of bobby pins.

I also use one as a catchall for the baby's small toys and rattles, and still another one for receipts and bills until they are paid and filled away.

The boxes are pretty and keep things neat and easy to find.

..... Mrs. Pat McHale

Dear Heloise:

I cut tops off detergent and bleach bottles to make flower pots. I cut one inch from the base of a larger bottle to make a saucer for the flower pot.

..... Betty Richardson

And, if the plants require watering from the bottom, you could punch a few holes in the bottom of the pot before putting the plant into it.

Then by pouring water into the saucer it will seep up through the holes and water the roots of the plant.

..... Heloise

Dear Heloise:

A good way to leave messages for children when you're not home, is by CODE.

NOTES LEFT on the door might tell a stranger too much, but when a yellow tag means "you're next door," a blue one that "you'll be home in a few minutes," or a red one says, "enter quietly, little ones are napping," then only the right person gets the message.

Collision Claims Life

Of Infant Girl

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP) — A pickup truck and an automobile collided on the Eastern Expressway near Rochester Thursday night, taking the life of a 7-month-old girl.

The infant, Desiree Ward of Rochester, died shortly after arriving at Genesee Hospital.

Monroe County sheriff's deputies said the child, sitting on her mother's lap in the truck, apparently struck her head on the windshield.

The mother, Peggy, 32, was reported in fair condition at the Hospital. The child's father, Harold Ward, 43, escaped injury.

Both Defenders Are Guilty

A letter from Detroit reads, "My partner opened the king of clubs against South's six-spade contract. South reviewed the bidding and then proceeded to play just as if he had looked right into our hands. He took dummy's ace of clubs and ace of trumps. Then he cashed the three top hearts and discarded two of his clubs. His next play was the jack of diamonds. I covered with the king. He cashed the ace and queen and ruffed his last diamond. Then he ruffed a heart, got back to dummy and led another heart. I ruffed. He discarded his last club and claimed his contract. I objected vehemently to my partner's opening club bid. He didn't like my double. We are still fighting. Can you settle our argument?"

It seems rather appropriate to answer this letter today. I only hope that we can produce an armistice.

We don't approve of West's opening club bid. It belongs to that class of opening bids called psychics. It is designed to fool opponents but the trouble with such bids is that they fool partners also and when you fool your partner he will become afraid of your correct opening bids.

On the other hand East's double was far worse. He must have realized that there was something wrong with his partner's opening bid. In that case six spades might be makable. In such situations we follow a basic rule which is that when our opponents bid a game or slam under their own steam we never double when we may be jeopardizing the setting trick. South could have made the slam without the double but he shouldn't have.

Labor Another Big Loser in Tuesday Voting

By CARL P. LEUBSDORF

WASHINGTON (AP) — Organized labor took a substantial drubbing in Tuesday's election, primarily in the House.

Some 37 House members who supported labor on most key votes in the last session were defeated for re-election and another 13 retired. Only a handful of labor foes were beaten or have retired.

The result cast considerable doubt on the prospects for revival next year of such labor-supported measures as unemployment compensation reform and repeal of Section 14B of the Taft-Hartley Act which permits states to ban the union shop under which workers must join unions.

A tally today showed that 47 House members who voted last year to repeal Section 14B will be missing from the House in January, 35 through defeat. Two others were beaten in Senate bids. Only 18 House members who opposed repeal will be gone, most through retirement.

Most of the 47 were among 39 defeated members who voted to bring small businesses under minimum wage coverage and were among 33 beaten congressmen who opposed GOP efforts to slow down minimum wage hikes.

14B Was Campaign Issue

The 14B repeal move faltered in the Senate and was abandoned after Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen led a filibuster against it. But it became an issue in a number of campaigns this fall.

Reed Larson, executive vice president of the National Right to Work Committee, the principal national group opposing repeal, said in an interview today that the issue "contributed substantially to the majority being with the administration was repudiated" in Tuesday's ballot ing.

VFW Observes Veterans Day

Saugerties Memorial Post 5034, VFW, and its Ladies Auxiliary, commemorated Veterans Day by joining together in ceremonies at the local Town Hall this morning at 11 o'clock. Following a wreath laying program there, the two groups conducted rites at both the Legion Home on Livingston Street and the Maine Monument, Malden-on-Hudson. Commander and Mrs. Michael Bonack were in charge.

A its recent monthly meeting, the Auxiliary collected names of all Saugerties residents now serving in the armed forces in Viet Nam. Dads of Foreign Service Vets plan to send a package to each such person for Christmas and names should be given to Philip Breithaupt by this weekend in order to meet the mailing deadline.

The group also announces that one bus is already filled and reservations are being taken for another for the annual trip to New York City Saturday, Dec. 10. VFW bus will leave Saugerties bus terminal at 7 a. m. and return from Manhattan at 10 p. m. Mrs. Mary Wood, of Veteran, is in charge of details for this holiday trip and may be contacted for reservations.

4 From Jaynees At Convention

Four members of Saugerties Jaynees attended the recent Distinguished Service Award convention at Laurels Country Club, Monticello. They were: Arlene Childers, president; Diana Antalek, external vice-president; Terry Leombruno, past president; and Barbara Poleschner, associate member.

The local delegates heard such speakers as William Suttle, national president of the Jaynees, and Dr. James Turpin, of Project Concern, which maintains clinics in Hong Kong and Viet Nam. Problems of local Jaynee chapters were discussed and directors voted to support Project Concern. Each Jaynee member in New York will donate a book of trading stamps to acquire a jeep truck for Turpin by Christmas.

The weekend convention also included the Distinguished Service Award dinner to honor six outstanding young men in New York State. State Jaynees were also honored by Jaynees on the occasion of their 20th anniversary as an auxiliary of the male organization.

Home Team Wins Theme of Essay Is Self-Reliance

Proving their scholastic brilliance for the second week in a row was a quartet of Saugerties High School students, who were declared winners of the Little Red Schoolhouse television program on Channel 6 Monday night.

The local team, captained by Christine Harder, a senior, and composed of Christine Francello, junior, and Reed Fuller and Eva Graham, both seniors, will appear on the program next Monday for the third time.

Saugerties won the competition two consecutive weeks by defeating a team from Philip Schuyler High School, of Albany, and another group from South Glens Falls Central School. So far, the local students have won $100, or $50 each week they appeared.

Local Rotary Observes Week

Rotary Club of Saugerties will join more than 12,500 other Rotary clubs in 133 countries in this week's world-wide observance of Rotary Foundation Week, Nov. 13-19. This year's celebration marks the beginning of a year-long observance by Rotary clubs everywhere of the 50th anniversary of Rotary Foundation, according to club president Dr. Dexter O. Arnold.

Objective of the Foundation is to further understanding and friendly relations between peoples of different nations. Supported by contributions from Rotary clubs and Rotarians around the world, the Foundation received more than $1 million last year.

Since 1947, when a program for graduate study abroad was begun, Rotary Foundation has awarded 2,300 Rotary Fellowships at a cost of more than $6 million. Recent awards for the 1967-68 academic year totalled more than 160 and represent $500,000 in Fellowships.

To enlarge its work in the field of international relations, the Foundation recently added two activities to its program: Awards for Technical Training to enable young men to improve their skills by studying in another country, and Group Study Exchanges of teams of young business and professional men between different countries. More than 450 persons throughout the Rotary world receive awards each year.

Saugerties Rotarians celebrated the "Week" at their meeting Nov. 8 at Anton's Restaurant with a review of the Foundation Program.

School District Sets Hearing for Elderly

Residents of the Saugerties Central School District are reminded of the public hearing regarding tax exemption for persons over 65 with incomes less than $3,000 which will be held on Wednesday, Nov. 16, in the High School auditorium at 8 p. m.

Superintendent of Schools Dr. Dexter O. Arnold said the hearing is required by law before the Board of Education can act upon a resolution to place the new permissive legislation in effect in the School District.

School attorney Morris Rosenblum will be present to explain the law and its implementation. The Board of Education invites all concerned to attend.

Kerhonkson

Federated Church

KERHONKSON—At the regular 11 a. m. worship service at the Federated Church of Kerhonkson on Sunday, the message, "New Men for a New World" was brought by the Rev. Billy G. Vestal. Anthem sung by the senior choir. The junior choir sang the offertory anthem. After the sermon delivered, the Sacrament of Baptism was administered to Denise Ann Finkbeiner, infant daughter of Guy and Thelma Finkbeiner, and to Maria Denise Perkins and Lori Ann Perkins, daughters of Ronald and Catherine Perkins. Senior High Youth Fellowship met at 7 p. m. Sunday at the fellowship hall.

In the near future there will be a meeting for the parents of all junior high youth in the church for the purpose of organizing a program for the junior high youth fellowships.

A congregational meeting of the Federated Church was held in the church at 7:30 Wednesday evening.

The senior choir meets for rehearsal at 7 p. m. in the church on Thursday evenings. Since there is no school on Friday, Nov. 11, the junior and intermediate choirs will not meet for rehearsal this week. The choir is now practicing for Christmas. They would like to have any men who are willing to sing for the Christmas services attend the rehearsals.

Sunday school classes for all ages will be in session on Sunday, Nov. 13, from 9:40 to 10:40 a. m. The regular Sunday worship service will be at 11 a. m. with the Rev. Mr. Vestal bringing the message "What God Expects of Us."

Next Wednesday, Nov. 16, at 7:30 p. m. the Sunday school teachers and officers will meet in the fellowship hall. They will finalize plans for the Christmas program, which will be held on Dec. 18, and begin planning for the Mission Festival, which will be held some time in the spring of 1967. Teachers received their copy of the Christmas program last Sunday.

Checker Tournament

The cultural committee of St. Mary of the Snow CYO will conduct a checker tournament for members from grades five through eight this Sunday at 2 p. m. in the school cafeteria. The success of last year's tournament prompted a cultural committee chairman, Mrs. Mary Collins, to again schedule the event, she said. Entry blanks are available at St. Mary School. Assisting Mrs. Collins are Dorothy Casal, Fay Washburn, Helen Kramer, Bobbie DiDomenico and Marge Mignone.

Sore Shoulder Is New LBJ Ailment

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — President Johnson, already troubled with medical problems in the throat and abdomen, has a new source of discomfort—a sore shoulder.

Johnson, who has been getting as many as three rubdowns a day from medical corpsmen attached to the White House, was seen kneading his right shoulder following a news conference Thursday at his ranch home near Johnson City.

Nature Not Known
The nature of the soreness in the President's shoulder was not known. Presumably it is the kind of ache that occasionally plagues any middle-aged man.

Johnson does not necessarily attribute the soreness, which extends down into the arm, to his industrious shaking of many hundreds of hands during his 17-day Asian tour. He likes to point out that he shakes with both hands—in a sort of arm-over-arm windmill motion.

Johnson announced no plans in advance for this Veterans Day. However, it was known that additional Cabinet officers will be conferring with him at the ranch during his Texas stay.

The President said Thursday he still doesn't know where or when he will undergo surgery to remove a throat polyp and repair an abdominal hernia along the incision from last year's gall bladder-kidney stone operation.

Johnson's surgery last year was performed at the Naval Medical Center in Bethesda, Md., just outside the capital.

The President said Thursday he hopes to enter the hospital in less than a week or 10 days. He indicated he might be operated on as early as Monday. But he emphasized that no decision has been made.

Johnson also told reporters he is feeling good, but that the hernia plagues him a bit—just as if he were carrying a weight attached to his side.

His voice was noticeably hoarse.

Perfect Prints . . . But

WASHINGTON COURT HOUSE, Ohio (AP) — They may be perfect fingerprints, but Police Chief Rodman Scott would be happier without them. A man being booked to serve 40 days for disorderly conduct and contempt of court unexpectedly remarked, "If the chief wants my fingerprints, he can have them."

With that, he neatly pressed his inked fingers onto Scott's new white hat, lying on a nearby counter.

Wallace Price Change

The price of famous maker sweaters for men was incorrectly listed in Thursday night's Wallace's advertisement in The Freeman and should have read $9.99.

VC Frogmen Pose New Threat for Viet Nam Ships

By FRED S. HOFFMAN

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — The Communist Viet Cong are reported training frogmen for attacks on U.S. ammunition ships and other vessels.

Officially, the Navy will say nothing about this development. But Navy sources in Saigon and elsewhere confirm that it is causing concern.

Resemble Frogmen Action
One Navy source reported that mines have been found tethered to anchor chains of American cargo vessels, indicating the explosives were hung there by frogmen.

Ships sailing the winding Saigon River from the South China Sea to the South Vietnamese capital are vulnerable. They can be reached with comparative ease from the river banks.

Several ships have been blown up, but these apparently were victims of floating mines. Navy experts said the Viet Cong have placed some mines so they float 5 to 6 feet below the surface of the muddy stream.

Also vulnerable are U.S. ships standing off the mouth of the Saigon River, at Vung Tau, waiting for berths along the crowded Saigon waterfront.

Concern is felt, too, for ammunition ships which are unloaded in the Cam Ranh Bay area, about 180 miles northeast of Saigon.

The Navy maintains security patrols around the ships, but officers acknowledge it would be difficult to prevent attacks by swimmers, particularly under cover of darkness.

Superintendency Status Sought By Area School

Members of the Board of Education of Central School District 2W, Towns of Wawarsing and Rochester, Ulster County, and Mamakating, Sullivan County, petitioned State Commissioner of Education James E. Allen Jr., for permission to convert the district to a village superintendency.

The vote on a resolution at the recent board meeting was 8 to 1 with R. A. Benson, board president, abstaining temporarily. He will have an opportunity to vote at an adjourned session scheduled for Tuesday night.

The resolution forwarded to Commissioner Allen states that the board petitions the commissioner for an enumeration of the school of the Central School District's "to effect an appointment of a superintendent of schools in the district pursuant to provisions of Section 1711 of the Education Law."

The resolution further states that the board "will continue to employ different persons" in the positions of superintendent of schools, principal of high schools, principal of elementary schools and director of guidance and attendance.

Kerhonkson Man Hurt

Steve Schultz, 37, Kerhonkson, was injured at 12:30 a. m. today when his car went out of control on Granit Road in that community and overturned after veering off the right side of the highway. Trooper C. R. Larsen of the Ellenville State Police said Schultz was treated at the Ellenville Community Hospital for facial lacerations and released.

Plan to Slow Falls For Erosion Study

NIAGARA FALLS, N.Y. (AP) —The U.S. Army Corps of Engineers, stymied by a snowstorm last weekend, plans a partial turn-off of the water Saturday flowing over the American Falls.

The re-scheduling, announced Thursday by corps officials, was made after predictions on wind direction, weather conditions and the flow of the Niagara River all were favorable, a spokesman said.

The engineers had hoped to undertake the project last weekend, but a snowstorm that began the previous Thursday night forced the one-week delay.

The flow reduction will be accomplished by opening intake valves of the hydro-electric power-generating plants along the U.S. shore of the river, he explained.

The purpose of the partial shutdown, slated to last from 8 a.m. until 3 p.m., is to take time surveys and special photographs of the cataract and the channel below it.

That project is part of a $50,000 federal study seeking ways to halt the erosion of the American Falls and remove rock debris at its base. A report on the subject is slated to be completed by Jan. 1, 1967, the spokesman said.

Chest Reveals $244,265 Total

Campaign officials of the Ulster County Community Chest announced $244,265 or 81.9 per cent of goal for $299,600 has been reached as of today. Progress continues to be made in all divisions. The follow-up task force is in "high gear" in their attempts to contact everyone in the Chest area and give them the opportunity to give and thereby reach the full goal to insure the necessary operating expenses in 1967 for the 13 agencies.

Charles E. Raible, campaign chairman, said the professional divisions are reaching new highs. Attorneys are at 82.4 per cent of goal with 22 who have not contributed; dentists are at 60.4 per cent with 8 who have not contributed and physicians are at 91.6 per cent with 22 who have not contributed.

Raible expressed concern for reaching the goal due to the large number of businesses which still have not cooperated by permitting a solicitation of their employees. Many more are cooperating this year but there are still 39 firms with more than 15 employees. The follow-up task force is seeking to contact all this coming week.

The public service division is also discouraging with only 41.3 per cent of goal. Section results are as follows: County 6.7 per cent; City 11.8 per cent; State 5.7 per cent; Federal 49.1 per cent; Schools (Kingston) 58 per cent and hospitals 46.5 per cent.

Raible said although some results have not been reported campaign efforts have been increased to insure everyone in the Chest area is contacted one way or another.

A special luncheon of Community leaders will be held on Monday at the Governor Clinton Hotel to appraise them of the progress. As representatives of the Community Chest will give a complete campaign report.

Man Injured, Tried To Avoid Dog Pack

Earl Reeder, 28, of 6 Cherry Lane, Saugerties, was injured at 1:45 a. m. today when his car went out of control as he avoided a pack of dogs that ran in front of his 1965 sedan on Route 9W about four miles north of Route 209, Town of Saugerties.

Trooper W. B. Crawford of the Kingston sub-station said Reeder sustained lacerations of his face. Reeder was driving north on the highway when the dogs ran from the east side of Route 9W in front of the car.

Troopers reported Reeder swerved to avoid the dogs and lost control. His car hit a parked pickup truck owned by George Taylor, PO Box 72, Mt. Marion.

Honor Retiring Prison Head at Testimonial Fete

Some 400 persons gathered Sunday at a retirement dinner given in honor of Dr. Walter M.

Over more than 20 years as warden of Wallkill Prison. The testimonial was given at the Nevele Country Club, Ellenville.

Speaking briefly at the affair's close, Dr. Wallack said he has "no immediate plans for the future" other than to enjoy his retirement with his wife in their hilltop home near Wallkill.

During the testimonial, the Rt. Rev. George F. McKinney, Catholic chaplain at Sing Sing Prison, was guest speaker. Others on the program included Commissioner of the State Division of Parole, Robert J. Wright, who served as toastmaster; Paul D. McGinnis, commissioner of the State Department of Correction; Russell G. Oswalk, chairman of the State Division of Parole, and Dr. E. Preston Sharp, general secretary of the American Correctional Association.

Also on hand were a number of local and state political figures.

IMPROVE BEACH AREA—General improvement of the Kingston Point beach area this year included the recent planting of some 30 arbor-vitae trees. Mayor Raymond W. Garraghan noted that the trees purchased from the Kelder Nursery "were planted by Arnie Aho and Son as a good will community service." He asked "other citizens to take notice of what you can do for your city." Present plans the mayor said call for additional parking space for 100 cars and a new entrance to the beach parking area from Delaware Avenue. Additional picnic areas will be completed for the summer season. Cancer Warning Signals

WARNING SIGNAL NO. 4
Change in Bowel and Bladder Habits

Change in bowel habits is warning signal against cancer of the large bowel (colon and rectum) because the cancer by its growth narrows and obstructs the inside of the bowel and interferes with the normal passage and evacuation of the bowel content. Change in bowel habits as a warning signal against cancer of the large bowel is often combined with warning signal Number 1—abnormal bleeding from a body opening; in this instance, the outlet of the rectum.

Cancer of the colon, especially that part in the left side of the abdomen connecting with the rectum, may produce constipation and diarrhea.

Used as Relative Term

Constipation as used here is a relative term. It means, if one has always had easy and regular bowel movements, only slight constipation. If a person has had a tendency to constipation it means any increase in the difficulty of bowel movements. Diarrhea occurs because of softening and liquefaction of the bowel content which is obstructed by the cancer and of its subsequent passage through the obstruction.

Other signs of cancer of the colon are anemia, weakness and fatigue, loss of weight.

Fifty per cent of cancers of the large bowel involve the rectum. Warning signals of cancer of the rectum are more easily noted than those of cancer of the colon. They are again constipation, diarrhea, and bleeding. A person may also experience a sense of discomfort or feeling of fullness in the rectum. Sometimes he has to make repeated trips to the toilet.

Non-cancerous conditions of the large bowel may have symptoms similar to the warning signals of cancer. But a person should not risk delay in seeking medical investigation for cancer of the colon or rectum while he attributes his symptoms to "hemorrhoids," "colitis," "chronic constipation," "spastic colon" and "nervous diarrhea." He should not waste time in getting cancer diagnosed as early as possible while he treats himself at home with laxatives or with drugs to relieve the diarrhea. For cancer of the colon and rectum in a localized stage, the curability rate with surgery is 65-70 per cent. Following spread of cancer to regional tissues the curability rate drops to 30-40 per cent.

In a thorough medical investigation for cancer of the large bowel the physician will include gloved-finger examination of the rectum; use of proctosigmoidoscope (a lighted tube for looking into rectum and lower part of colon), X-ray studies; stool tests, biopsy if possible.

A person may increase his protection against carcinoma of rectum and lower part of the colon by having periodic gloved-finger rectal examination and proctosigmoidoscopic examination which can reveal a cancer even before it is producing any change in bowel habits.

Early Check Advised

Remember: A change in bowel habits with or without bleeding from the rectum or in the bowel content calls for thorough medical examination as soon as possible to check whether cancer is the cause of the trouble. Periodic examinations of the rectum and colon can detect symptomless cancer. Surgical treatment of localized cancer of the large bowel provides nearly 70 per cent chance of cure.

Change in bladder habits signifies frequent urination, urgent need to void urine, weakening to complete stoppage of the urinary stream. Such disturbances in passing urine occur with various conditions, non-cancerous as well as cancerous, especially in the prostate gland, and in the bladder.

Let us focus attention on change of bladder habits in cancer of the prostate because this type of cancer is the most frequent one in the genito-urinary organs of men. Three to four per cent of all men over 50 years of age suffer from this form of cancer. The frequency increases with advancing age, in the 60's, 70's, and 80's.

Cancer of the prostate brings about change in bladder habits by obstructing the outflow of urine from the bladder. Infection of the bladder which complicates the urinary obstruction leads to additional untoward effects.

It should be emphasized that all the disturbances in urination related to cancer of the prostate are more frequently produced by benign enlargement of the prostate—a very common problem in men over 60 years of age.

Basically, the physician diagnosis either cancer or benign enlargement of the prostate with gloved-finger rectal examination which is a simple, brief, painless method of examination.

Biopsy Needed

Further with this method the physician can detect or suspect cancer of the prostate before any warning signal has appeared and so this type of examination is recommended for every man past his 50th birthday at least once per year. A biopsy is needed to prove the presence of cancer. When cancer of the prostate is detected still inside the capsule of the prostate and treated by radical operation the outlook for hopeful result is more encouraging.

Remember: Change in bladder habits is a warning signal for cancer of the prostate. More often than cancer, benign enlargement of prostate will turn out to be the reason for the trouble in urination but yet prompt medical attention should be sought to check for cancer. Cancer of the prostate can be diagnosed by gloved-finger rectal examination and biopsy even before it gives a warning signal. Periodic rectal examination of the prostate may disclose cancer in a stage when the most beneficial result from treatment is possible.

Next: Warning Signal No. 5: Hoarseness or cough.

Syracuse Buses Are To Resume Today

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP)—Buses were to start rolling in this city today, thus ending a 10-day strike by drivers and mechanics against the Syracuse Transit Co.

George Sullivan, president of the transit firm, and leaders of Local 580, Amalgamated Transit Union, announced agreement on a three-year contract Thursday for the 320 employees.

The employees struck Nov. 1 and sought a 32-cent-an-hour increase.

The new contract provides for 10-cent hourly wage boosts each year and a cost-of-living provision for the third year.

The drivers earned $2.70 an hour and mechanics were paid from $2.79 to $3.10 an hour under the old pact.

Resnick Letter Requests

heard on the matter. The letter would not be discussed and Chairman Relyea said that since he had not received a copy of the letter from Congressman Resnick, and there was nothing before the meeting in regard to the request of Resnick for dismissal of Commissioner Fitzsimmons, there would be no action taken. The letter from Resnick, which had been presented to the supervisors, would be read at the next meeting, Relyea said.

Supervisor Douglas Dye (R), Town of Kingston, who had previously stated that he intended to offer a resolution calling for a vote of confidence for Commissioner Fitzsimmons, said since the matter had not come before the meeting he would offer no such resolution. Dye said he saw "no purpose" in asking a vote of confidence since the Resnick request for dismissal of Fitzsimmons was not before the meeting.

Both Chairman Relyea and Supervisor Dye told reporters that they had not received copies of the Congressman's letter which was handed out to board members shortly after the meeting was called.

Congressman Resnick's letter to the individual supervisors and "I am enclosing a copy of the letter today (November 10) to the Resnick, chairman of the Ulster County Board of Supervisors. I respectfully request that you read it and consider it seriously in anticipation of a resolution which Supervisor Douglas Dye is expected to introduce at the meeting today."

Resnick's letter to Chairman Relyea, dated November 10, said:

"I am writing to you to urge that you take this necessary steps to dismiss Mr. Joseph Fitzsimmons as Ulster County Welfare Commissioner as quickly as possible."

"It is my considered opinion that Mr. Fitzsimmons has not only misinterpreted the laws of the State of New York regarding adoption, but has shown himself to be incapable and incompetent to continue as Welfare Commissioner. Indeed, according to present state regulations, the Board of Supervisors cannot appoint Mr. Fitzsimmons as Welfare Commissioner because he lacks the necessary qualifications."

"He has shown an inhuman and callous attitude toward the welfare and happiness of a ward of Ulster County, Beth St. John. He has denied Mr. and Mrs. Michael Liuni of Tillsen, New York, the right to adopt Beth even though she has been in their home under the best of conditions and care since she was five days old, four and a half years ago."

Three Basic Reasons
"The three basic reasons that he cites in denying Beth to the people she regards as mother and father are: Mrs. Liuni's age, and the fact that the Liunis are Italian, while Beth is of French, English and German extraction. This is taken from court testimony, where it was made clear that it is the County Welfare Commissioner's policy to use ethnic considerations in adoption cases. This is a violation of New York State law."

"The fact that Beth has blue eyes and blonde hair and Mr. and Mrs. Liuni have dark eyes and dark hair also is used as a reason for denying this child her home and family."

"While it is true that Mr. and Mrs. Liuni are in their 40's, I am sure all of us know of people who have become natural parents at this age and have made excellent parents."

"As far as Mrs. Liuni's health is concerned it was brought out in the Family Court that Mrs. Liuni suffered from physical exhaustion brought on by the fact that the Welfare Department placed a total of four infants, all less than one year old, in her home at the same time. In addition, Mrs. Liuni has three natural children of her own."

Cites Condition
"There has been competent psychiatric testimony that Mrs. Liuni is a well-adjusted emotionally stable person, capable of taking care of Beth and her three children."

"It is important to note that at the time of Mrs. Liuni's illness the Welfare Commissioner permitted all four infants to remain in her home. Mrs. Liuni's illness took place in November 1965, but no attempt was made to remove Beth until March 1966 and even then, the only reason given was that other adoptive parents had been found for Beth."

"I think it is also important to point out that the Liunis requested permission to adopt Beth from the time she was six months old, and were assured verbally that they would be permitted to do so as soon as all legal problems had been resolved."

"We in America, have always prided ourselves in the fact that everyone is entitled to his day in Court before a fair, impartial judge and jury. Yet even this was denied the Liunis; for the Family Court Judge who heard the case, Hugh Elywn, is related by marriage to Commissioner Fitzsimmons. I feel that this is a direct conflict of interest because neither Judge Elywn nor Mr. Fitzsimmons informed the Liunis or their attorneys of this fact. I doubt if any of us would want to be in a law suit where our opponent's relative was sitting in judgment."

Note Human Aspect
"Up to this point, I have touched on the legal aspect of this tragic situation. Now I would ask you a question concerning the human aspect. What among us would be so cruel and heartless as to take this beautiful child away from the only home and family she has ever known?"

Move to Counter

Nazi Taint on Choice in Bonn

BONN, Germany (AP)—The Christian Democrats launched a campaign today to counter the Nazi taint on Kurt Georg Kiesinger, their choice to succeed Ludwig Erhard as West Germany's chancellor.

A threat of socialist Mayor Willy Brandt of West Berlin to bid for the job added urgency to the task of the party which has ruled West Germany throughout its 17-year history.

The government spokesman Karl-Guenther von Hase told a news conference that people "who for French-German relations know what Kiesinger has done and for the free world would not be influenced by bombast about his record."

A 22-year-old document made public today said Kiesinger was denounced as opposing anti-Jewish propaganda when he helped run the Foreign Ministry's radio section in Adolf Hitler's Reich. Kiesinger has been criticized because of his service to the Nazi regime.

The name of the man who denounced Kiesinger was left out of the version of the document Kiesinger's supporters distributed Thursday.

The document is the record of a denunciation made in Reich security headquarters on Nov. 7, 1944, six months before Germany surrendered. A spokesman for Kiesinger called it "largely accurate."

Kiesinger, 62, minister-president (governor) of the important state of Baden-Wuerttemberg for the past eight years, won the dominant party's nod Thursday on the third ballot by Christian Democrats in the Bundestag. They gave him 137 votes to 81 for Foreign Minister Gerhard Schröder, who has directed the government's pro-American policy under Erhard.

Kiesinger went to work at the head of a 14-man negotiating group seeking an alliance with the Socialists to give him the majority needed for election by the Bundestag. But Brandt's Socialist party was making its own effort.

Socialists Confer
The Socialist leadership was meeting today to consider whether to request the Bundestag, the lower house of Parliament, for a vote of "constructive no confidence" against Erhard. The motion must include the name of a successor; in this case Brandt. For adoption it needs 249 of the 496 votes in the Bundestag. The Socialists have only 202 and need the 49 votes of the Free Democrats, until two weeks ago Erhard's allies in his coalition government.

The Christian Democrats also lack a majority in the Bundestag, having only 245 votes.

Bear Directs Traffic
PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — The sight of an 800-pound black bear directing traffic into a parking lot upset Paul Tucker that he crashed his car against the one in front of him.

Nobody was injured in the accident Thursday.

The bear that Tucker saw was Kelly, a performing bear whose owner has it on a national tour.

Architect Albert E. Milliken sent a communication to the board offering his services free for the study of cost of restoring and preserving the historic Ermine's Bridge over the Wallkill between the Towns of Rosendale and Esopus.

Three suggestions were made in a report by the Sheriff's Committee for the relief of the crowded condition at the county jail, and the report suggested that a "long range plan" be prepared after studies of the situation have been made. The committee reported that the jail facility problem should be handled in two phases:

Urgent Action
To alleviate emergency conditions, the following action should be taken:

Lower the amount of bail in order to reduce the number of prisoners awaiting Grand Jury action.

Reduce the waiting period between indictment and trial.

Investigate the possibility of using available jail facilities in other counties, i.e. Albany, Westchester and Orange Counties.

To prepare a long range plan. The State Commission of Correction will supply the committee with an estimate of size and facilities and they will also supply actual reports on recently built jails.

Ask Deferment
The report stated that Mr. Venter and Mr. Marohn of the State Commission of Correction would recommend to the commission that they defer any action until after the December meeting of the Board of Supervisors.

The department of Correction has threatened to condemn the local jail facilities unless some correction of conditions is made.

The Sheriff's Committee, Dye, chairman, reported that George F. Venter Jr., assistant secretary of the State Commission of Correction, had notified the board of supervisor's office Thursday that facilities were available in the Orange County jail for 40 prisoners. However to transfer the local prisoners to Orange County will require court order.

Albany County also advised the committee that space was also available there.

A resolution by Supervisors Dye, chairman of the Welfare Committee, and DeFeitis, and Thomas Musiakiewicz (R), Ulster, was approved calling for the Building Committee to im-

Report Slick,

Debris in Crash Area

OTIS AIR FORCE BASE, Mass. (AP) — An Air Force Constellation with 19 men aboard is missing today and presumed to have crashed in the Atlantic some 125 miles east of Cape Cod.

The four engine EC121H, a radar patrol plane out of Otis, vanished from radar screens early this morning while on a routine air defense mission.

Massive Search Started
Officials said there was no indication the plane was in trouble when contact was lost. First word of a possible crash came by radio from a small fishing vessel.

A massive search was organized immediately after the fishing vessel reported seeing a plane hurtle through the fog into the rough seas.

Rescue planes from Labrador and Bermuda and other Atlantic bases swarmed over the area, seeking the lost craft. Coast Guard cutters, fishing vessels and merchant ships joined in the hunt.

Identity Withheld
The searchers reported an oil slick and unidentified debris in the area where the plane was said to have crashed.

Identity of the 18 men aboard the Constellation was withheld by the Air Force pending notification of next of kin.

A Coast Guard spokesman at Boston said the plane left Otis at 12:35 a.m. and was last heard from by radio at 1:22 a.m.

Shortly after that, ground radar contact was lost, the Coast Guard said. There was no report of any conversations or indications of difficulty.

At 1:30 a.m., the spokesman said, a fishing vessel reported seeing an aircraft plunge into the water.

Try Depot Officer
TREASURE ISLAND, Calif. (AP) — The court-martial board trying Navy Capt. Archie Kuntze will resume deliberations Monday on whether the officer was guilty of misconduct while commanding a supply depot in Saigon.

The board adjourned Thursday.

The prosecution says Kuntze imported fabric from Hong Kong to Viet Nam for profit and exchanged Vietnamese money and military script for U.S. dollars for his personal account. The defense says the charges against Kuntze, an officer decorated in three wars, are false.

HOMER, Mich. (AP) — State police ordered an evacuation of this southern Michigan community today when a fire endangered gas storage tanks.

Police said first reports indicated that a fire from a New York Central freight train derailment threatened to spread to the storage tanks along the right-of-way.

Nautilus, Essex

Homeward Bound After Sea Crash

NORFOLK, Va. (AP) — The nuclear-powered submarine Nautilus and the aircraft carrier Essex, damaged in a collision off the North Carolina Coast, were homeward bound today for repairs.

The two Navy ships collided Thursday, some 360 miles east of Morehead City, N.C., as the Nautilus practiced an attack on the Essex.

The Navy said the Nautilus, the world's first nuclear submarine, received "extensive damage" to its sail (conning tower) and the Essex's damage was confined to her hull.

A Nautilus crewman knocked from his feet was the only person injured, the Navy said. He suffered a possible broken arm.

The Nautilus is under escort to New London, Conn., her home port, by the destroyer Furse. She was expected to arrive "within a couple of days," a spokesman said Thursday night. The Essex steamed toward Boston. Her home port is Quonset Point, R.I.

The Navy said the cause of the collision had not been determined.

Words of Priest

Killed in Viet Message for All

DAU TIENG, South Viet Nam (AP) — "My place is with them," Chaplain Michael J. Quealy replied when a 1st Division officer tried to dissuade him from boarding a helicopter to join American troops under heavy jungle attack. Hours later, he was killed by Viet Cong fire as he gave the last rites to a dying soldier.

Father Quealy, a Roman Catholic from New York City, was the fifth U.S. chaplain to die in Viet Nam. He had volunteered for Army duty after three years at a church in a suburb of Mobile, Ala., and arrived in Viet Nam Jan. 25.

Not His Unit
Father Quealy was assigned to the 2nd Battalion of the 1st Division's 28th Regiment, but when word reached forward headquarters Tuesday morning that the regiment's 1st Battalion was heavily engaged in the battle in Tay Ninh Province, he decided to go to it.

He reached the battalion in War Zone C, northwest of Saigon. A Viet Cong attack before dawn had been repelled with the help of artillery but the enemy was regrouping.

Ignored Battle
Ignoring the battle, he gave the last rites to several dying U.S. soldiers.

The Viet Cong made another attack. A Communist soldier trying a machine gun jumped from the bushes at Father Quealy attended the last of the dying men and shot the chaplain in the head and stomach.

Father Quealy died moments later, not knowing that the Viet Cong attack had failed.

The last entry in the diary he carried read: "So will my heavenly Father treat you unless each of you forgives his brother with all his heart."

Thant Prods

U.S. on Air Strikes

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) — Secretary-General U Thant declared today the United States should halt the bombing of North Viet Nam without condition and with "no time limit."

In what appeared to be strong language than before, Thant reaffirmed his three-point plan for bringing about peace negotiations on Viet Nam.

He made the statements in a message sent to Lord Brockway, chairman of the British Council for Peace for Viet Nam, in connection with a meeting in London. Brockway had asked Thant what "everyone of us could do to contribute to an end to the war in Viet Nam."

Thant's letter, dated Oct. 19, was released today.

Union Declares Police Abuse Boy

NEW YORK (AP) — The head of the New York Civil Liberties Union says an 11-year-old Negro boy in Syracuse was subjected to police abuse on the morning after New York City voters killed the civilian-dominated police complaint review board here.

"It's sad that on the morning after the election police have already interpreted the abolition of the board as a signal to abuse their authority and harass citizens of minority group even when they are children," Arvey Neier, executive director, said Thursday.

Will Cooperate
Regarding the Syracuse boy, Neier said the Central New York Chapter of the union will cooperate with Ellis Bert, director of the Onondaga Neighborhood Legal Services Inc., who is representing the boy, who was not identified.

Neier gave this account: The boy, while waiting for a school bus at 8:30 a.m. Wednesday, was explaining to a friend that he had learned from an educational television program in school that "flatfoot" was a term sometimes used for a policeman.

A policeman overheard the conversation and accosted the boy. The boy protested that he had done nothing wrong and the officer threatened to take him to a police station, and pulled him by an arm.

The boy fought back, and the officer carried him to a police car. The boy was taken to a police station and accused of resulting an officer and disorderly conduct.

Alerted Neighbor
The boy's mother, alerted by a neighbor, arrived at the station 15 minutes later but was not allowed to see her son. The mother forced herself into an office where the boy was being held, and she saw policemen removing handcuffs from him.

The mother was able to get the boy released after she explained that he suffered from epileptic seizures and that the situation might provoke an attack.

LONDON (AP) — Maj. Gen. Henry Alexander, former British chief of Ghana's defense staff, looked into his daughter's handbag and found drugs. He called the police.

Jane Alexander, 23, appeared in court Thursday on a charge of possessing Indian hemp. The magistrate discharged her with a warning "not to go on with this."

Jane kissed her father after the court hearing.

Scott Is Named

New Head of Patrolmen's Unit

Patrolman James Scott of the local police department was elected president of the Kingston Patrolmen's Association at a Thursday meeting.

He succeeds Officer Kenneth Radel, who was not a candidate for re-election. A close second in the voting was Patrolman Otto Short.

Other officers elected were: Gerald Tierney, vice president; Detective Albert Hutton, secretary and Joseph Feraca, financial secretary.

Officer Scott, a Kingston native and graduate of local schools including Kingston High School, has served on the force since Aug. 1, 1958. He had served in the U. S. Navy from May 11, 1946 to March 12, 1948.

The Burlingame

Case: New Part Of FBI Story

DES MOINES, Iowa (AP) — Robert S. Burlingame was summoned himself on the Iowa State Capitol lawn last July 1 when a Federal Bureau of Investigation agent told him he was wanted for questioning in a bank robbery.

That was the start of a 132-day ordeal which ended Thursday when U.S. District Judge Roy Stephenson dismissed a bank robbery charge filed by the FBI against Burlingame.

In Another City
U.S. District Atty. Donald M. Station said the FBI finally had established that Burlingame was in Minneapolis on June 22, as he claimed, when the $1,500 holdup of the Iowa-Des Moines National Bank occurred. Burlingame was free on bond throughout the ordeal.

He said Burlingame was a victim of mistaken identity. The bank teller, Miss Jo Ann Barberio, 25, identified Burlingame at his preliminary hearing as the man who pulled the noon-hour robbery.

How does it feel to be under suspicion?

'A Long Nightmare'
"You have a constant subconscious feeling of strain," said Burlingame, 58, a former college professor. Des Moines newspaper and executive secretary of an employers association. "It was like a four-month-long nightmare."

He said, however, that his friends had stuck by him throughout and that was "the bright side of the cloud."

He said he was disappointed in the FBI for charging him on what he said apparently was flimsy evidence.

Profits Down Slightly
Corporation profits dropped slightly during the third quarter from earlier in the year.

Today's Business Mirror

By JOHN CUNIFF AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — Some companies insist that to address them, correctly you must include the "Inc." at the end of the name, even though for commercial identification purposes this tail is of questionable value.

Different Approaches

Others insist that a comma be inserted just before the "Inc." Some don't want the comma. And more insist that the tail be dropped. Some others spell the word "Corporation." Most, however, settle for "Corp."

In England the tail is "Ltd.," in France and Spain "S.A.," in Holland "N.V.," in Germany "A.G." and in Japan "K.K."

In popular use, however, these tails that trail company names are sometimes as redundant as adding esquire to a person's name. In certain instances they do help identify a small corporation that might be confused with a partnership.

Everyone of these tails means essentially the same thing: That liability in the company is limited to the amount owned — to the par value of an individual's shares. One person can't be held responsible for more of the company than he owns.

For legal purposes the tails do have meaning. In New York and many other states, for example, laws required the word "incorporated" or "limited" or "corporation" be part of the name as a limit liability concern.

Some Exceptions

There are exceptions. General Electric Co. was incorporated under an old law. If it was reincorporated, however, it might have to add the tag. This has been done before.

A few years ago, American

Gas & Electric Co. changed its name to American Electric Power and was required to add a tail to its name. The general assumption today is that a company without a tail is a partnership.

In popular usage, the indication of incorporation is hardly a requirement for identification. Almost all large concerns are incorporated. But many of the largest of them seldom use the formal name.

A General Motors Corporation executive commented "we seldom use 'Corporation' in our statements. We just call it General Motors." At United States Steel Corporation a spokesman said "We just say U.S. Steel for simplicity."

As Necessary as Tie

But to many companies the tail is as necessary as a tie to a well-dressed gentleman. This is very true of small companies with big ambitions. Some even have threatened to withhold payment for advertising which dropped a comma from the name.

Some American companies use "Ltd." instead of incorporated or corporation. This is an abbreviation of limited, meaning limited liability, and is commonly used in Britain and many countries influenced by British trade.

The name of a big banking concern is Calvin Bullock, Ltd. Why, a spokesman was asked, do you choose this form? "Vanity, I suppose," he said. Later another gentleman explained that Ltd., had "an international flavor."

FCC Has Problem; Airwaves in U.S. Are Overcrowded

WASHINGTON (AP) —The Federal Communications Commission is searching for more broadcast room for everyone from Uncle Sam to commercial television producers, taxi drivers and mobile restaurant owners flood the air waves.

The FCC feels the biggest pressure for a spot on the communications dial now is the fast growing land mobile radio service, uses of two-way radios.

Some feel the government may have to turn to television's Ultra High Frequency channels to find the room for expansion as more and more governmental agencies and private firms reach for a microphone.

Land mobile service includes fire and police departments, the military and public service companies whose need for quick communications is obvious.

Less apparent is the need to equip city garbage trucks with two-way radios and radio-dispatched portable pizza and enchilada parlors. But they are there nonetheless. Even the Archdiocese of New York has a radio setup.

A segment of the FCC says that the only available space for these services is now currently occupied by the government and commercial UHF television channels 14 through 83.

There apparently is little chance the FCC will be able to free the government-held frequencies. The Defense Department has most of them and contends they are needed for military matters.

That leaves only the UHF channels and, even though they are sparsely populated with television stations, any decision to allocate them—even if it's only two or three channels—for the two-way radio users would be painful to the FCC. The commission for years has been trying with some success to develop them for commercial and educational use.

Since World War II the land mobile radio service has grown from practically nothing until today there are more than 230,000 authorizations for such systems in the United States of these, 155,000 are for business.

Users of these mobile radio systems have been complaining that their channels are so crowded that base station interference is blotting out communications.

Nobody doubts that the UHF television spectrum is sparsely settled. Nationwide there are 121 stations on the 70 channels available while 495 stations are crowded on the 12 Very High Frequency channels—2 through 13.

But the FCC has not wanted to cut down the number of UHF channels available for future expansion.

The number of American households is steadily increasing and so is the percentage headed by women. The total grew from 43.6 million in 1950 to 58.1 million in 1966. But while only one in about seven was headed by a woman in 1950, it is one out of every five currently. The increasing proportion of elderly people in the population and the edge of several years women have over men in longevity are largely responsible for the change.

China's By-passed Generation Is Stirring and Restless

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Special Correspondent
HONG KONG (AP) — China's bypassed generation is stirring restlessly.

Young men beyond the age of 20 dislike the prospect of what they see as a strange alliance between the old and the very young, suggests one of them, a young former Red Chinese army officer who fled the mainland only two years ago.

The very old are the top leaders of the Politburo. Their average age is somewhere above 60. The very young are the teen-age Red Guards, the rampaging youngsters the old men are using today as a political weapon.

Group to Mature
In between is a generation bypassed in a grim power struggle at the top in Peking. That generation includes the many millions in the Young Communist League. It is now virtually dismantled, probably because its members were too mature to be used in the way the Red Guards are used to push what the new leaders, headed by Defense Minister Lin Biao call the "great proletarian cultural revolution."

The young officer said there was no question in his mind but that Red China now is in deep crisis and that if it continues on its present course it could lead to collapse of the regime. But, knowing his Chinese brethren, he did not feel that the regime would collapse. When the danger became too acute, he predicted, there would be a compromise.

Much of what is going on — and has been going on for some years now in the slowly unfolding power struggle — is unpopular, he said. But one development is generally welcomed among the Chinese.

"It was good to get rid of the Russians," he said with an air of grim satisfaction. "It was good to get rid of foreign domination."

No Love for Russians
If he is a sample of Chinese thinking, there never was any love for the Russians. Even his fellow officers, he said, welcomed the split although some professionals regretted the loss of Soviet military assistance.

Speaking through an interpreter, the ex-officer said that when he left mainland China he felt the people were not happy, that they were hoping for political and economic changes. Mostly, the literate element wanted less restrictions on their individual lives.

The Chinese people in general, he said, did not think highly of the Communists or communism, but didn't think highly of the Americans either. His friends tended to believe that Americans were aggressors and that they were threatening China's security.

Gradually, he seemed sure, China would pull out of its present state of chaos. And gradually, too, he added, China will develop its own system, even though it might be a Communist system.

"Marxism is outdated," he snorted. "Mao Tse-tung is no Marxist. For a Chinese to say he is Marxist-Leninist is to talk nonsense. Marxism-Leninism is a foreign idea. If there is going to be communism, it should be Chinese communism."

Albany Medical Plans Emergency Power System

ALBANY—On the first anniversary of "The Big Blackout," Albany Medical Center has announced it will install an emergency generating system at an estimated cost of $600,000.

Equipment for the system has been placed on order, according to Arnold Cogswell, president of Albany Medical Center Hospital. The plant should be in operation in about a year, he said.

Today's announcement follows an intensive year-long study of the Medical Center's power requirements. Various power systems were studied and rejected as inadequate in that period, Cogswell reported.

The auxiliary power system will consist of two 600-kilowatt diesel engine-generators, a structure to house them, and necessary transmission lines. Contractor for the equipment and transmission lines is E. G. May, Inc., of Albany.

To be centrally located at the rear of the Medical Center, the emergency power plant will carry about 40 per cent of the Medical Center's present electrical load. In the event of a power failure, the generating equipment will go on automatically to supply such key areas as:

Surgery and delivery rooms, emergency room, intensive care unit, recovery room, blood bank, emergency lights in corridors, four elevators, infant nurseries, wall suction equipment, ventilation systems, pharmacy, key outlets in clinical laboratories, and doctor and nurse paging systems.

Some of the power of the new generating system will not be supplied automatically, but will be fed through the hospital's regular power distribution system on a selective basis to such areas as the main kitchen, laundry and cafeteria. Key places in Albany Medical College also will be served in this way.

Architects for the new generating plant and the building to house it are Schmidt, Garden and Erikson, of Chicago. E. W. Stone, of Chatham, Mass., is the consulting engineer.

Albany Medical Center lost power for two hours during the "Blackout" of Nov. 9, 1965.

Democrats to . . .

convention candidates was a weary task, especially if a person wished to vote other than a straight party line which, apparently, many did.

Voters generally were not too enthusiastic about the convention or electing its delegates, but it is important—particularly to the party that controls it.

Reapportionment
One of the tasks to be faced by the convention is reapportioning the state's senate and assembly districts. The controlling party at the convention obviously will work for an apportionment scheme designed for its benefit.

The latest unofficial count Thursday showed that the Democrats will enjoy that advantage with a majority of 97 delegates to 86 for the Republicans. The Democratic total includes 87 district delegates and 10 at large, while the GOP elected 84 from districts and 2 at large candidates.

The Liberals will fill the other three seats of the 186-member body when it convenes April 4. The convention will be the ninth in the state's history. Stated simply the convention's function is to study the state constitution and make recommendations to improve it.

Draw $15,000
Delegates will be paid $15,000, plus a $3,000 expense allowance, the same pay received by a state legislator.

Recommendations agreed on by the delegates will be submitted to the electorate.

Meanwhile, Assembly Speaker Anthony J. Travia told The Associated Press he would like to preside over the historic convention.

The Democratic legislator, one of the state's more powerful party leaders, will be one of the delegates from Brooklyn to the conclave.

Travia also said that he did not believe the convention would be conducted with as much political maneuvering as exists in the state Legislature. In Mineola, Joseph C. Carino, former state assembly speaker and Long Beach Republican, claimed he won a delegate's seat to the Convention.

A canvass of the unofficial tally of Tuesday's voting showed an error and reversed the standings of candidates in his district.

Carino apparently edged out Snitzer, a former judge of the district court.

The figures on the race were not available immediately.

Food Stamps and Boycotts: Does One Cause the Other?

By RALLY RYAN
AP Business News Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Do grocery store trading stamps, bingo games and horse race contests boost food prices?

Picketing housewives in Decatur, Ga.; Cedar Rapids, Iowa; Pittsburgh; Washington; Wilmington, N.C.; Van Nuys, Calif.; Newark, Ohio; and Market, W.Va., say yes. So do some economists.

But the stamp companies argue that stamps encourage competition, and that prices tend to be lowest where competition is most intense.

Some Drop, Some Add
Store managers are split. Since picketing and boycotting over high food prices began, some stores have dropped stamps and contests; some have added them.

"Somebody has to pay for these things and I have a pretty good idea it's us," says Mrs. J. Lassiter of Atlanta, Ga.

The chief economist for the Federal Trade Commission, Willard F. Mueller, has said a supermarket offering trading stamps could absorb, or pass on to its customers, the 2 per cent margin represented by the cost of trading stamps.

Says Could Trade for Out
The New York City markets commission, Samuel J. Kearney Jr., said stores could cut prices 2 to 4 per cent if they eliminated stamps, and other promotional giveaways.

But William S. Beinecke, president of Sperry & Hutchinson Co., a stamp firm, disagreed.

"It is wholly irresponsible to suggest that trading stamps cause higher prices or that eliminating them would result in lower prices," Beinecke said.

Pay 1 Cent on Dollar
His firm sells S&H green stamps to one out of five supermarkets and a host of other businesses in the United States. Merchants pay about 2 cents for the stamps they hand out for each $1 the customer spends.

At one stamp for every 10 cents, a shopper will spend $20 to fill one stamp book which can be redeemed for about $3 worth of merchandise — toasters, sheets, toys, furniture, etc.

Since the recent protests began, there have been no cancellations and no decline in sales, S&H said. It said the firm has added three stores in Lima, Ohio; six in Jackson, Mich.; seven in Monroe, Mich.; and two in Helena, Mont.

Lower But How Much
Safeway Stores, Inc., the nation's second largest food chain, has announced it will drop its Gold Bond trading stamps in Montana at the end of the year.

Safeway said it would mean lower prices, but it didn't say how much.

Purity Stores, Inc., which operates 84 stores in Northern California, called off its sweepstakes game, and said it would offer the option of trading stamps or a cash discount.

"It has become abundantly clear to us that games have lost their popularity," said Harold G. Ward, president. But he added that "the great majority of our customers" still want to save stamps.

volved, but so are state funds and so are human rights. I believe it is incumbent upon you, as Governor and leader of our state, to make it clear that no state funds will be distributed in areas practicing the latent discrimination inherent in the Luni case.

At the same time Congressman Resnick's office released the contents of a telegram received from State Welfare Commissioner George Wyman.

"On Nov. 7, at the request of Commissioner Wyman, Commissioner Fitzsimmons and other Ulster County representatives appeared before him in Albany to determine whether the Ulster County Department of Public Welfare had violated any requirements of the social welfare law in the planning for the child."

"Commissioner Wyman was emphatic that ethnic factors have no relevance in determining the placement of the child and that any such ethnic consideration is contrary to the policies and requirements of this department. Mr. Fitzsimmons assured Commissioner Wyman that the ethnic factor did not play a controlling or major role in arriving at his department's decision in benefit of the child."

"Commissioner Wyman decided on this basis of the oral report made by the Ulster County officials that no act or decision appeared to be illegal."

"Commissioner Wyman did not pass judgment on the other aspects of the whole case by the Ulster County Department of Public Welfare. With respect to the child, cognizance was taken pending court action."

"Commissioner Wyman requests that he be kept currently informed of all developments affecting the welfare of the child."

Financial and Commercial

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market advanced slightly in moderate trading early today.

This pushed the post-election rally into a third session. Brokers expected trading volume would decline from the level of the past few days because many financial institutions were closed for Veterans Day.

Wall Street was encouraged when the Dow Jones industrial average Thursday rose above its Sept. 15 rally high.

Changes of most key issues were fractional but a few ran to a point or so. Steels, utilities, nonferrous metals, chemicals and rails advanced.

Bethlehem Steel gained half a point and U.S. Steel and Republic were higher by lesser fractions.

Opening blocks included Jersey Standard, up 1/4 at 69 1/2 on 5,900 shares; Douglas Aircraft, up 1/4 at 42 1/2 on 11,000 shares; American Telephone, unchanged at 56 on 4,000 shares; and Ford Motor, off 1/4 at 41 1/2 on 4,500 shares.

Thursday, The Associated Press stock average advanced 2.5 to 298.7.

Prices advanced on the American Stock Exchange. Gains were fractional.

Orbiter 2 Joins 3 Soviet Craft In Lunar Orbit

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — America's Lunar Orbiter 2 — on a mission to take pictures of 13 possible astronaut landing sites — has company in lunar orbit — three Soviet spacecraft.

But scientists said Thursday after the 850-pound craft was locked in orbit that there is no danger of collision or radio interference.

Scientists at Jet Propulsion Laboratory who are controlling the craft ordered a braking rocket to be fired for 10 minutes Thursday, slowing Orbiter 2 from 3,126 miles an hour to 2,678 and allowing it to slip into an orbit 1,147 to 119 miles high.

The Soviet craft in lunar orbit are Luna 10, Luna 11 and Luna 12, also sent to scout landing sites. The first two sent no pictures, but Luna 12 has transmitted photos taken from an altitude of 62 miles.

Orbiter 2 will circle the moon every two hours and 40 minutes until Nov. 17 while controllers plot its track and study the moon's gravitational field.

Then the orbit will be altered to bring the spacecraft within 28 miles of the lunar surface when the picture taking begins Nov. 18.

Police Hunt Slayer Of Deer Park Man

BAY SHORE, N.Y. (AP) — John E. Witherspoon, 22, a laborer of Deer Park, N.Y., was fatally wounded by a shotgun blast fired by a man with whom he had had an argument in a Bay Shore bar Thursday night, police said.

Witherspoon died in Southside Hospital.

Police sent out an alarm for the slayer, who was tentatively identified by witnesses.

Witnesses said the slayer left the bar after the argument, returned with the shotgun and shot Witherspoon in the back.

Witherspoon lived at 295 Skidmore Road, Deer Park.

Stamps Up Cost Warns on Concessions

NEW YORK (AP) — Former Vice President Richard M. Nixon warned today that both Republicans and Democrats might make unwise concessions to a Vietnamese Communist for a politically popular peace during the 1968 presidential campaign unless President Johnson ends the war next year.

Exhilarated by Republican victories in Tuesday's election, Nixon surveyed the situation in Southeast Asia before flying off to a fishing vacation in Florida.

Nixon said in an exclusive interview that Republican victories in the House of Representatives provide a "bulwark of support for a policy of no reward for aggression in Asia and Lyndon Johnson should move to end this war without appeasement in 1967."

Consider Defense System

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara says the Soviet Union is developing an antimissile system and the United States is considering whether to set up one.

The cost of such a system designed to fend off long-range ballistic missiles would be enormous, ranging perhaps as high as $30 billion.

McNamara made his statement, believed to be his first public comment on the Soviet defense system, to newsmen Thursday at President Johnson's Texas ranch. He said he and the President had discussed the antimissile missile system and will have further talks about them.

making his first space trip, are to exploit lessons learned on nine previous two-man Gemini journeys.

Major goal is to learn if man can work effectively outside an orbiting ship in a pressurized suit. Space walkers experienced troubles moving about on the last three Gemini flights and raised a question whether astronauts will be able to perform complex tasks slated for later space flights.

Aldrin plans three excursions outside, totaling nearly five hours. He is to take a two-hour space walk and conduct two "space stands" during which he is to poke his head through an open hatch.

Will Pace Self
During the walk he'll pace himself carefully, stopping to rest often and using aids such as handrails and foot restraints to help him move about.

These were highlights of the Gemini 12 flight plan:

Today, Gemini 12 catches and links up with Agena during the fourth orbit about four hours after launching, practicing many maneuvers that Apollo astronauts must make on return trips from the moon. Lovell and Aldrin fire Agena engine to shoot to altitude of 460 miles.

Saturday, Aldrin opens his hatch about noon for 2-hour 20-minute session of photographing the stars and performing simple tasks.

Sunday, Stepping into space on a 25-foot lifeline, Aldrin first hooks up the still-joined Gemini and Agena with a 100-foot cord stowed on the Agena. He practices moving about with the handrails and performs tasks such as making electrical connections and loosening bolts at a "work bench." After the two-hour walk, Lovell separates from the Agena and pulls taut the 100-foot line between the two vehicles in a fuel-saving formation-flying test.

Photo Session
Monday, Aldrin opens his hatch for a 40-minute photography session. Rest of the day is devoted to experiments.

Tuesday, Lovell and Aldrin photograph a sodium vapor cloud spewed across the sky by a French rocket launched in Algeria. They fire retro-rockets over Pacific and land in the Atlantic about 700 miles southeast of Cape Kennedy after flight of 94 hours, 37 minutes.

The final Gemini flight will clear the way for the first earth-orbit flight of a three-man Apollo moonship. NASA had hoped to send the first crew into space in December for a trip of up to 14 days. But problems with the spacecraft delayed the maiden flight until early next year, with Jan. 17 the current planning date.

Republicans Gain

redrawn to give urban areas equal voice.

But state legislative pickups about in line with statewide congressional races.

Cancel 1964 Gains
Many victories simply canceled gains the Democrats had registered in normally Republican states during the 1964 Johnson landslide, when Republicans lost 529 seats.

In several states, reapportionment changed the size of law-making bodies, complicating precise before-and-after comparisons. And scattered races remained in doubt, such as the two-vote victory by one Republican in Hawaii.

But the approximate totals showed Republicans gaining nearly 900 seats in 68 of the 87 chambers for which there was balloting. Democrats cut the net GOP gain back to about 700 by gaining in 12 chambers — but 129 seats of their pickup came in the huge Connecticut assembly, where a 3-2 Republican margin was turned into a 2-1 Democratic edge.

The overall results leave 29 state senates in Democratic hands, 19 with Republicans and one tied. Democrats control 25 lower houses to 23 for the Republicans and one tied.

Democrats control both houses in 24 states, Republicans in 17. Eight states have divided control and Nebraska has a unicameral non-partisan legislature.

Governor Expects To Make 6 Major Shifts in Staff

NEW YORK (AP) — Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller said today he expects to make at least six major changes in his administration, replacing some department heads with younger men.

The governor, before leaving Kennedy Airport for a 10-day vacation in Puerto Rico with his wife and son, Nelson Jr., said some members of his administration wanted to return to private life.

Many Considered
"We will be bringing in younger people, very young, in their thirties and forties, and are considering very many for the positions," he said.

Rockefeller, who won a third term Tuesday, said the new appointments would be made on a nonpartisan basis.

He declined to say what cabinet posts would be open, but William S. Hults, the state motor vehicles commissioner, has resigned, and reported ready to leave were Commerce Commissioner Keith S. McHugh and Mayor George Krone, president of the State Civil Service Commission.

Neither McHugh nor Miss Krone was available for comment, but it was indicated they were to retire voluntarily, effective Dec. 31.

Rockefeller appeared refreshed from the long and victorious campaign, but he said privately that he was extremely tired. "I'm going to sleep for 10 days," he said.

The governor said that after he returns he plans to begin work on unfinished business from the last Legislature.

High on his list of priority legislation for the next Legislature, in January, he said are a revision of the controversial Condon-Wadlin law that bars strikes by public employees; lowering the voting age to 18; and modernizing the election procedures.

Rockefeller disclosed for the first time that he had told his Democratic opponent, Frank D. O'Connor, that he was "sorry" for O'Connor's being dragged into an investigation conducted by Queens Dist. Atty. Nat. H. Hentel.

"I said I was sorry for any political implication in the campaign that could have been drawn from the statements that were made," he said.

Mansfield Suggests Measuring Viet Gap

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP) — Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield says the United Nations Security Council should convene all countries interested in Viet Nam in order to "measure rather than guess the gap" which separates them.

The Montana senator said in a speech Thursday at Johns Hopkins University that maybe some countries wouldn't show up and that he didn't expect miracles.

But he added, "The least that should be expected, or accepted it seems to me, is a willingness on the part of the council to confront the issue of Viet Nam and to confront it soon."

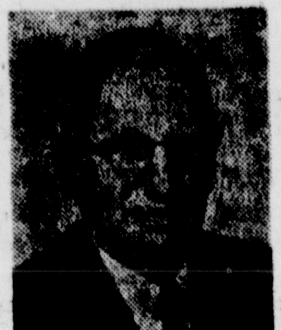

Mansfield said getting participation from all interested parties should not be insurmountable. He recalled that Communist China, not a U.N. member, appeared before the council to state its position on the Korean conflict.

So far, Red China and North Viet Nam have denounced any U.N. peace-making role in Viet Nam.

Q "I have been watching G. D. Searle and have been thinking of buying if the price drops further. I would like your opinion of this stock." E.J.

A I am very pleased to supply it. Searle is an excellent pharmaceutical. It was the first company to produce an oral contraceptive and its earnings are rather heavily dependent on this type of product. Competition in the birth control area helped to lower Searle's earnings last year and I look for a little gain in 1966. The stock has long-term attraction, but in the pharmaceutical field I prefer Merck & Co. I believe this issue—with its broader earnings base—has a better growth outlook.

Q "I hold a block of Southland Life, which has come down sharply in price since 1965. Should I continue to hold or reinvest in other issues? I am 80 years old and am borrowing on my insurance to meet living expenses and to finance my grandson's education." F.G.

A I commend you most sincerely for financing your grandson's education. Southland Life, in my opinion, is a well-managed company. It operates mainly in Texas and the South. Its better-than-average growth reflects the strong expansion of the areas which it serves. The decline in price of the shares is typical of the life insurance group which—as I said earlier—has fallen out of investment favor since 1965.

I like Southland for appreciation over a period of years, but I do not consider it suitable for a man in your particular situation. It seems to me that you need higher income than Southland or any other good life stock affords. I suggest that you switch this holding into Lone Star Gas, yielding 5.5 per cent; Union Pacific R.R., selling on a similar basis; Southwestern Bell Telephone 5 1/2 per cent debentures due 2006, noncallable before 1971 and offered at 99 1/2.

Johnson Admits Things Will Be Little Tougher

By JAMES MARLOW
AP News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson kept mum a while about Tuesday's election, as if to digest the result in which Republicans were the gainers, but finally admitted things would be a little tougher for him now. This doesn't mean he has become a reticent politician. In this year's election campaigns he was rather more absent than reticent. It was the absence which saved him from some possible embarrassment later. His decision to go to Asia in mid-October as the campaigns heated up, instead of spinning around the country to plug for Democrats in trouble, raised the two obvious questions: Was the trip necessary then or couldn't it have waited until after the elections? Or was he afraid that, if he did campaign for those who lost, some or much or all of the blame would be dumped on him? In fact, Sen. Wayne Morse, Oregon Democrat, warned Johnson to keep his nose out of Oregon politics. Morse's warning came while the President was still in Asia and there was the possibility that when he returned a week before elections he might campaign. Johnson removed himself from any campaigning when he did come back and announced he needed surgery. In effect, Morse, constant critic of Johnson on the war in Viet Nam, told the President he would be a potential disaster for Oregon's Democratic candidates if he went there. This was ironic, since Morse himself refused to support the Democratic candidate for the Senate, Rep. Robert B. Duncan, a Johnson supporter on Viet Nam, who was running against Oregon's Gov. Mark O. Hatfield. Morse said that if Johnson visited Oregon "He will probably help elect Hatfield." Hatfield won anyway, although Johnson never went near Oregon. But New York's Sen. Robert F. Kennedy did and pitched for Duncan. But, for that matter, so did Johnson's vice president, Hubert H. Humphrey.

Before Johnson went to Asia it was pretty well known a number of Democrats might lose. Take three of the most prominent: California's Gov. Edmund G. Brown running for re-election against movie star Ronald Reagan; Illinois, Sen. Paul N. Douglas, running for re-election against a businessman, Charles H. Percy; and in New York, a New York City councilman, Frank D. O'Connor, running against Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller who was seeking re-election. Except for a brief visit to New York in support of O'Connor Johnson visited none of the three states. But Kennedy did. And so did Humphrey. The three Republicans — Reagan, Percy and Rockefeller — won. Now no one can say that Johnson is responsible. And Johnson now has the luxury of sitting back to see if anyone tries to blame Kennedy, no pal of Johnson and perhaps his rival for the presidential nomination in 1968, although Kennedy denies he will be.

Hults Resigns Vehicle Post, 2 More May Go

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller faced the prospect of several bare spots in his political cabinet today, including one left by William S. Hults, state motor vehicles commissioner.

Hults resigned Thursday at the same time two other members of the governor's cabinet were reported ready to leave. They are Commerce Commissioner Keith S. McHugh and Mary Goode Krone, president of the State Civil Service Commission.

Neither McHugh nor Miss Krone were available for comment, but it was indicated they were to retire voluntarily, effective Dec. 31.

Hults has been commissioner for eight years. He notified the governor Thursday that he planned to retire at year's end for "personal reasons." The post carries an annual salary of $29,875 and will be one of several appointive plums the governor will have to pass out. Hults is from Port Washington. Prior to his appointment, he was for 15 years a state senator from Nassau County. McHugh, a former president of the New York Telephone Co., was named to the commerce job seven years ago. He is 72-years - old and already has received an extension permitting him to serve beyond the mandatory retirement age of 70. Miss Krone, who was married recently, has worked for the state since the 1940s and has been a commissioner since 1954.

READER CRIES
"NON-SMOKERS UNITE"
FORGETS FIRST DUTY OF OF HOSTESS

The following letter has been chosen as the prize-winning one for this week. A copy of Emily Post's "Etiquette" has been sent to Mr. M. J. Buchele of San Augustine, Tex.

Dear Mrs. Post: Re: Quiz gives good tips to smokers, may I ask why you didn't give the best tip of all? In the home of non-smokers, when no ash trays are in sight, why do smokers not accept it as an indication that smoking is not appreciated in the house. Why is it always the non-smoker who is expected to be courteous and put up with the very disagreeable odor of stale smoke, while the smoker is allowed to go blithely on his way, smoking when and where he pleases with no consideration for his host and hostess? I, for one, do not keep ash trays in evidence. If my guests ask if I mind if they smoke, I frankly tell them we prefer not to have smoking in the house. If they rudely light up anyway, I do provide an ash tray rather than have my furniture or dishes used as ash trays.

Smokers as a class are extremely rude. They blow smoke in your face with no attempt to deflect it. They do not ask permission to smoke even when they know you do not smoke. They assume that the burden of politeness is on the non-smoker entirely, and that they are being very put upon if they are asked to refrain from smoking for a short while. I say "Non-smokers Unite!" And, if you must, be as rude as your smoking friends to rid yourself of the necessity of having your homes smelly with someone's smoke—Be rude. The confirmed smoker has not yet learned that courtesy is a two-way street. —Mrs. M. J. Buchele

Dear Mrs. Buchele: Far be it from me to suggest that you compromise your feelings about smoking, or even about those who smoke. But when you feel so strongly about it, why do you ask smokers to your home?

The point to be made, and I repeat it over and over, is that a hostess's first duty is to her guests—to make their stay in her house just as pleasant as she possibly can in every way.

There are rude people and polite people in every category you can name. I do not feel that smokers "as a class" are any ruder than any other group. I do think, however, that those who smoke should make a very special effort to do so in the politest, and therefore least annoying, way that they can. I am fully aware that the smell of smoke and the act of smoking itself is extremely unpleasant to many people and their feelings, of course, must be considered, too. I agree that smoking can be particularly objectionable at the table, and that smokers certainly can refrain during meals when it is obvious that the hostess would prefer it.

But whatever you may feel about the habit, when you ask friends to your home it is up to you to accommodate them, and if they are unhappy without their cigarettes, it is not your duty to impose a moratorium on smoking while they are in your house.

Extension Service Offers Booklets As Buying Guides

The first National Consumer Education Week, Nov. 14-19, will be bringing attention to the important role that homemakers play in the nation's economy says Phyllis W. Barlow, Extension Home Economist. The educational program in home economics offered by Cooperative Extension emphasizes the homemaker's role as a consumer and offers unbiased information to help her make the best decision for her family.

Extension bulletins in several areas of home economics are available from the Home Economics Division office, 74 John St., Box 545, Kingston 12401, which offer homemakers guidelines to follow as consumers. Several are mentioned below, and all homemakers are invited to visit the office to pick up any others which might be of help to them.

The Shoppers Handbook, is a 25-cent bulletin compiled to help shoppers sort through fabric facts and labeling laws as they apply to purchasing clothing and clothing care.

When You Buy Chair Cover and Upholstery Fabrics. Planning on re-upholstering? This bulletin is a must to help in selecting the fabric best suited for your use.

When You Buy a Rug or Carpet. Rugs and carpets are available in many styles, colors and price ranges. Do you know which is most appropriate for your needs? Of course people are shopping and buying the year around. So it stands to reason that reliable consumer education materials like this booklet, should be available to busy homemakers all year long.

Attention Food Shoppers. Be on the look-out for the Shoppers Guide to be placed in grocery stores in or near six Ulster County villages including New Paltz, Wallkill, Saugerties, Accord, Lake Katrine and Woodstock. Each week, for 12 weeks, the shopper's guide will be on a different topic of concern to the food shopper.

The service for food shoppers was inaugurated in most of the areas on Nov. 8 and will carry through the week of Jan. 24. Some of the topics are Fruits from Nearby Farms, Let's Talk Turkey, Read the Label, Apples for Every Use and Cuts and Costs of Beef.

Paltz Geologist Aids State Hatchery In Search for Water

Dr. G. Gordon Connally, assistant professor of geology at State University College, New Paltz, has completed a map of surface deposits around Crown Point on Lake Champlain to help locate groundwater supplies for the Crown Point fish hatchery.

In cooperation with the U. S. Geological Survey, Connally mapped the surface deposits in the area for the government agency to aid its search for underground water for the State Conservation Department hatchery, fifteen miles north of Ticonderoga.

To obtain data, Connally visited several operating gravel pits in the area of Crown Point, Streetroad and Ticonderoga. He also hand-augered clay deposits on local farms, and obtained water well figures from homeowner and local well-drillers. Work done by the late Dr. Eugene Barker of Crown Point was used to reach a number of conclusions in the project, Connally said.

The New Paltz geologist said he found land-owners in the area "very hospitable and helpful."

Connally is now engaged in a two-year mapping project for the Office of Planning, Coordination and the New York Geological Survey. The current project will map all surficial materials of potential economic importance in the Lake Champlain and Lake George region. He will map such materials as sand, gravel, clay and peat in Washington, Warren, Essex and Clinton Counties. It was this study that led to the U. S. Geological Survey's request for his assistance on the Crown Point survey.

In that survey, he was aided by Michael Frischman, a student geologist at the New Paltz college.

300 Attend Testimonial

Yankee Official Predicts Bright Future for Ferraro

Nearly 300 area sports fans showered praise and gifts on Mike Ferraro, New York Yankee third baseman and a Yankee public relations official tabbed the Kingston youth as a Yankee man of the future in a resplendent testimonial dinner Thursday night at the Gov. Clinton Hotel.

Jackie Farrell, a 24-year veteran of the Yankee organization, told the audience a redoubled effort is needed to restore the old Yankee image that "was badly tarnished in the last few years."

A monumental rebuilding program is required, Farrell said, but he predicted the Yankees would regain their former glories in "less than five years."

Speaking specifically of Ferraro, who played 10 games at third base for the Yankees late in the 1966 season, Farrell said: "He has the ability and spirit to become a star with the Yankees. Many players have uniforms but not the real spirit this young man possesses. He is a good man on his feet and comes along at a time when the Yankees need infielders badly."

Must Depend on Youth

Farrell admitted the Yankees must depend on young players like Ferraro and others to regain public confidence and said the club now has a nucleus on which to build for the future.

The pint-sized publicity genius interspersed humor and philosophy in a wide ranging speech in the style that has made him one of the most sought after speakers on the banquet circuit and the Yankees' No. 1 ambassador of good will.

Other speakers praised the Yankee rookie, including Mayor Raymond W. Garrahan, who said the city was proud of Mike Ferraro and his accomplishments to date. Charles J. Tiano, Freeman Sports Editor, noted that Ferraro was only the fourth Kingston player whose name has appeared in a major league box-score since 1883. He listed the three others as Myron Allen and Dick Johnston in the pre-1900 era and Bud Culliton of the 1925-26 Pittsburgh Pirates.

Others Speak

High school coach Jack Gilligan traced Ferraro's remarkable progress and accomplishments as a high school athlete.

The audience also heard from Alderman-at-Large Frank Koenig, Ed Palladino of The Freeman sports staff, who was co-chairman of the event with Koenig; Allen Finkelson of the Monticello Raceway public relations department, and from the guest of honor.

Frank Fernandez, top Yankee catching prospect, and Ferraro's roommate at Toledo, was a surprise guest at the dinner.

Ferraro was presented with two keys to the city, a plaque from Kingston Community Baseball Association and several merchandise gifts.

Assisting Palladino and Koenig on the dinner committee were: Hubert Richter, John Bach, Fred Davi, Andrew Murphy III, Willard A. Burke, John Gilligan, Frank Van Etten, James Martin and John McCordle.

Harry H. Thayer, president of Station WGHQ, was toastmaster and the Rev. James V. Keating of St. Joseph's Church gave the invocation and benediction.

Knudson Leads Palmer by One

By TED SMITH
Associated Press Sports Editor
TOKYO (AP) — George Knudson of Canada, a handsome golfer and ambassador who shot a sensational, record-breaking 64 Thursday, slipped behind Arnold Palmer of the United States in the second round of the Canada Cup today and then surged back into the lead again with birdies on the 16th and 17th holes.

Knudson's 36-32 gave him 68 for the day and a 36-hole total of 132. Palmer shot 34-33—67 which with his 66 of Thursday made his score 133. Par for the 6,962-yard hilly course is 72.

Tied for third in individual honors were Lu Liang-huan of Nationalist China with 67-68—135 and Hideyo Sugimoto of Japan, the local club pro, who shot 36-33—69 to go with his 66 of Thursday.

The United States took over the team lead from Canada by virtue of Jack Nicklaus' 35-33—68 which gave him 137.

The American team total was 270, a sensational 15 under par. National China was second with 273, followed by Australia 276, South Africa 276, Canada 278, Japan 281, Belgium 282, and Argentina 284.

Palmer, Knudson, and Nagle all were tied after 27 holes with scores of 100. Palmer forged ahead with 33 on the back nine, with three birdies and a bogey, but Knudson, playing behind him, birdied the par 4 and 5 16th and 17th and then saved the day on the 18th by sinking a tricky, twisting uphill putt of 12 feet.

As soon as Palmer and Nicklaus finished play, an Air Force helicopter alighted on the Yomiuri Country Club driving range and took the two American aces to the Tachikawa Air Force Base Hospital where they visited with wounded from the Viet Nam battle front.

Robertson's 48 Don't Help Royals

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Oscar Robertson had one of his hottest nights in the National Basketball Association, but he couldn't bring Cincinnati in from the cold.

Robertson scored 48 points—including all 10 of the Royals' overtime counters—but a three-point play by Bailey Howell in the final 13 seconds gave Boston a 113-112 victory Thursday night. Detroit also went overtime to beat Los Angeles 133-132 in the other NBA game scheduled.

Robertson and Jerry Lucas led Cincinnati back from as much as 13 points to a tie at 102 at the end of regulation play. In the overtime the score was repeatedly tied as Robertson kept on hitting, but Lucas fouled Howell as he was making a basket and Bailey converted the free throw.

The triumph was Boston's ninth in 10 games, boosting the Celtics half a game ahead of Philadelphia in the Eastern Division of the NBA. Cincinnati, now 4-6, is in fourth place.

Los Angeles, playing at home, led Detroit 119-117 before two free throws by Player-Coach Dave DeBusschere with seven seconds left tied the score and ignited the Pistons to their overtime triumph.

Hoopie Picks KHS, Poughkeepsie to Win

By MAJOR AMOS B. HOOPLE
Hoopie Specialist
Egad, friends, upsets continue to plague the prognosticators, including your learned observer. We had several upsets tabbed last week, but then selected the wrong games.

Actually, when our ultra modern computer sent out the scores, some of the figures became scrambled and I had the right scores with the wrong teams. Sound confusing? Ah, dear friends, it is. Harumph!

Still, with the computer sending out the mistakes, Hoopie managed to correctly pick half (10 for 20) of the games, giving him an eye opening record of 101-39.

Well, past history is now forgotten and we will bring you some rare selections for the weekend games. After this week, I will bid adieu until the Thanksgiving Day clashes. Between now and then, I will be studying the elements very closely, as well as the past performance charts and the circumference of the footballs being used. Hak-kaff!

There are two big high school games Saturday and we are going to pick upsets in both of them. First of all, dear friends, Kingston will spill Middletown, 19-14, and Poughkeepsie will spoil the unbeaten string of Arlington, 14-13, in a nail biter.

Of course, your correspondent isn't satisfied just to pick high school games. How about Purdue over Minnesota, 28-20; Michigan State over Indiana, 35-0; and Notre Dame over Duke, 42-6?

Well, we shall proceed to cut out the jibber-jabber and proceed with this guaranteed forecast.

Jones Sets Mark In Qualifying Test

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — Parnelli Jones, who unofficially trimmed seven-tenths of a second off the lap record at the Stardust International Speedway in a practice lap, says he expects times to drop even further during today's qualifying.

Jones made the 2-mile loop in 1:37.3 in a Lola T-70. The official track record of 1:38.0 was set last year by Jim Hall driving a Chaparral.

Jones, one of the most versatile drivers in auto racing today, says he'll have to beat seven drivers Sunday to win the $30,000 Stardust Grand Prix, final race in this year's Canadian-American Cup championship series.

He listed them as Hall and Phil Hill in the winged Chaparrals, Dan Gurney of Santa Ana, Calif., and four Commonwealth drivers, John Surtees, Jackie Stewart, Bruce McLaren and Chris Amon.

Jones won the 1963 Indianapolis 500.

Arlington Seeking DCSL Championship

Arlington High, the only unbeaten football team in the area, seeks to clinch the DCSL championship Saturday when it meets Poughkeepsie at the Forbes Street gridiron in the Bridge City.

Coach Frank King's Admirals are at 7-0 and must win to earn undisputed possession of the title. A PHS verdict will tie the Admirals for the top spot and give coach Don Smith a 6-2 record in his first season at the helm.

The top game in the DCSO matches Kingston and Middletown at Wilson Field. The Middies are heavily favored to topple the Maroon of coach Bill Hurley and march towards a circuit championship. Both sides have 4-2 records but Middletown has won by more impressive scores.

Highland was scheduled to meet Wallkill this afternoon. Coach Lem Atkins' eleven needs a victory to insure a second straight title.

In other UCA games today, Rondout was slated at Liberty, Pine Bush at New Paltz and Marlboro at Ontario.

The other DCSO game Saturday has Port Jervis at Newburgh. Beacon is at Saugerties in a DCSL tilt while NEMA visits Roosevelt. Wappingers plays at Shaker and Cardinal Farley at Lourdes in non-league engagements.

Carisle Wins 87G Dexter Cup

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Carisle captured the $87.180 Dexter Cup for 3-year-old trotters by an easy 3 lengths over Armbo Gazelle at Roosevelt Raceway Thursday night.

Carisle covered the rain-drenched mile in 2:07.25 and paid $5.40. Governor Armbo, the favorite, finished third but was disqualified and placed fifth for a long run through the stretch. Polaris was named third.

The Dexter was the final event of the grand slam for the nation's top sophomore trotters. Kerry Way won the Hambletonian. Polaris took the Yonkers Futurity and Governor Armbo won the Kentucky Futurity.

Kerry Way was scratched from the Dexter because of lameness.

Detroit Defense

Tops Hawks, 3-0

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Defense was supposed to be Detroit's biggest problem this National Hockey League season and lately it's been quite a problem — for the Red Wings' opposition.

Goalie Roger Crozier turned in his second straight shutout Thursday as Detroit blanked Chicago 3-0. In the only other game played, rookie Gerry Cheevers blanked his former Toronto teammates as Boston climbed out of the cellar with a 4-0 victory over the Maple Leafs.

With Bill Gadsby and Doug Barkley gone, the Red Wings were concerned about their defense in front of Crozier. But rookie Bob Wall has come through and the Wings, after a shaky start, seem to have worked out their problems.

Alex Delvecchio scored two goals and defenseman Leo Boivin had the other.

Crozier, who blanked Montreal last Sunday, turned away 29 Black Hawk shots.

Cheevers, recalled from the Central League four days ago, stopped 30 Toronto shots as the Bruins jumped past the idle New York Rangers into fifth place.

Camellia Bowl Teams Selected

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Top-ranked San Diego State and once-beaten Montana State appear certain to meet in the Camellia Bowl in Sacramento, Calif., Dec. 10, but candidates are still plentiful for the NCAA's college division regional title bowls at three other sites on that date.

The four bowl games are the prime goals for the many top college division clubs — the NCAA doesn't have semifinals and finals.

San Diego, 7-0, ended North Dakota State's 24-game victory streak last week, 36-0 and should sweep its last three, Montana State, 8-1, loser only to North Dakota State, 35-23, closes its regular season an underdog at Tulsa.

A top contender for the Midwest title in the Grantland Rice Bowl in Murfreesboro, Tenn., Tennessee State, 6-0, collides with Lincoln of Jefferson City, Mo., 6-1, Saturday in St. Louis.

Other Midwest standouts are Ball State, 6-1-1, Muskingum, 7-0, Middle Tennessee, 6-2, and Wittenberg, 6-1.

Six teams remain in the Midwest picture, hoping for spots in the Pecan Bowl at Abilene, Tex. Defending Pecan titlist North Dakota State, 8-1, has clinched a tie for the North Central crown and finishes at State College of Iowa Saturday.

Central Iowa, 8-0, Northwester Louisiana, 7-0, Parsons of Iowa, 7-1, Arkansas State, 6-1-1 and Lincoln are in the picture.

It's still quite a scramble for the Atlantic Coast crown in the Tangerine Bowl in Orlando, Fla.

Temple, 6-1, Morgan State, 6-0, and Massachusetts, 5-2 with both losses to major clubs, have the edge at the moment. Still in the picture are Waynesburg, 8-0, Randolph-Macon, 6-0-1, Vermont, 6-1, West Chester, 7-1, and Central Connecticut, 7-1.

Brad Meyer Named UCCC Cage Captain

Bradley "Brad" Meyer has been named captain of the Ulster County Community College basketball team, Coach Mike Perry said today.

"Brad Meyer played spirited ball on our team last year," Coach Perry said, "and has demonstrated the leadership ability that a captain should have."

Meyer, one of only two returning lettermen on this year's squad, averaged 16 points a game and Coach Perry is hopeful he will increase his point production this year. He also averaged 17 rebounds in a game and set a college record with 25 rebounds in a game against Sullivan County Community College. He also led the team in foul shooting, with a 74.6 percentage.

Meyer is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert I. Meyer, Germantown. His father is employed at the International Business Machines Corp. plant in Kingston.

Germantown Graduate

He is a graduate of Germantown Central School. Meyer played on the junior varsity basketball team there as a freshman. He was on the varsity squad for three years, serving as team captain in his senior year.

His first interest in basketball came in the seventh grade, when he joined an intramural basketball team.

BRAD MEYER

Meyer is enrolled in the Business Administration program at U.C.C.C., and after transferring to complete his education at another college he is hoping for a career as a business manager.

Harvard Ready To Oppose Brown

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Harvard always has trouble with Brown, says its coach John Yovicsin.

The Crimson, tied for first place in the Ivy League with three teams after losing last weekend to Princeton, could have trouble again with Brown Saturday, but not nearly as much as Cornell and Dartmouth, two of the co-leaders, figure to have with each other.

Princeton, the fourth co-leader — each has a 4-1 Ivy record — plays Yale two have-nots, Columbia and Pennsylvania, battle in other league games.

Quarterback Ric Zimmerman and halfbacks Bobby Leo and Vic Gatto figure to get Harvard back in the victory column against the hapless Bruins 0-5, at Cambridge, Mass., and keep the Crimson in at least a first-place tie.

Cornell, 23-14 victor over Brown last Saturday, will have the home field advantage over Dartmouth, which warmed up for this game with a 56-14 trouncing of Columbia. Cornell and Dartmouth each suffered its league loss to Harvard.

Pittsburgh Selected To Topple St. Louis

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Form took a beating last week when Green Bay, Dallas, Cleveland and Boston fell in a wave of upsets that shook up the pro standings. More of the same may be coming up Sunday.

Here are this writer's picks:

NFL

Pittsburgh 17, St. Louis 14—Cards lost Charley Johnson and Bob DeMarco for the season. Steelers' tough pass rush forced Frank Ryan to throw five interceptions last week in victory over Browns. They'll be firing against Terry Nofsinger. It will be up to Ron Smith to keep the ball out of Larry Wilson's hands if Steelers are going to score second straight major upset.

Baltimore 31, Atlanta 14—Colts on hot streak with John Unitas throwing 10 touchdowns passes in last four triumphs. Falcons must win sometime but not this week. Give Unitas enough time and he can name the score.

Dallas 24, Washington 17—Cowboys top league in offense and defense, but Timmy Brown and sloppy work of kick teams cost them a game against Philadelphia. Don Meredith will get the big rush from Redskins' defenders, but Cowboys have too many weapons for pass-happy Washington.

Cleveland 28, Philadelphia 14—Timmy Brown can't run back every kickoff for a touchdown.

and the Browns can't be as feeble as they looked against Steelers. The loss of center John Morrow may hurt Cleveland blocking, but they haven't lost to Philadelphia since 1962.

San Francisco 21, Chicago 17—John Brodie moving the club and 49ers still have a shot to take it all in the West despite bad start. Bears' passing sad but Gale Sayers is hot. Remember, Sayers scored six touchdowns against 49ers last Dec. 12.

Minnesota 27, Detroit 14—Vikings sky high after victory over Packers, their third in the last four games. Francis Tarkenton never better finding good target in Red Phillips.

New York 16, Los Angeles 13—Battered a hunch. Giants are battered with Earl Morrall out and Gary Wood bruised. Rams have lost four in a row and offense has been sputtering. Pete Gogolak vs. Bruce Gossett. Green Bay has the bye.

AFL

Buffalo 24, New York 21—A must game for Jets after that 33-23 beating by Bills at Shea Stadium two weeks ago. Buffalo must win or tie to hold Eastern lead.

Boston 24, Houston 20—Patriots were shocked by Denver last week, but Oilers have lost three straight and six of seven. Pats need Jim Nance in top form to combat Oilers' all-out air attack.

Kansas City 28, Miami 10—Chiefs got past their big one last week by beating San Diego, can't afford to take Dolphins cheaply. Kansas City blanked Miami 33-0 in preseason game.

Erdelatz Dies, Was Navy Coach

BURLINGAME, Calif. (AP)—Eddie Erdelatz, who began an eight-year football coaching regime at the U.S. Naval Academy with a startling victory over favored Army in 1950, died Thursday. He was 52.

Erdelatz, whose "team Names Desire" upended a powerhouse Army club and snapped a string of straight losses to the arch-rival Cadets, died after a second operation for throat cancer.

He entered Peninsula Hospital Oct. 24 for an abdominal diagnosis. When tests revealed throat cancer, the big man with the soft voice and ready smile told a friend: "This is my toughest fight — pray for me." A first operation was performed a short time later.

While Erdelatz coached at Navy from 1950 through 1958, the Midshipmen won 50 times, lost 26 and tied 8. Two of the victories were in bowl games, but none was as sweet as licking administered to that 1950 Army team which had won all its eight previous starts. Navy that year had a 3-9 record.

Erdelatz' Navy teams had a 6-2-1 record against Army when he resigned in a dispute about the Naval Academy's athletic policies. He later coached the Oakland Raiders for two seasons in the American Football League and was a vice president of California Finance Corp. in nearby San Jose when he died.

Most of his life he lived for football. As a youngster in Berkeley, across San Francisco Bay, he painted stripes on his sweater to look like a player and glued acorns on his high-top shoes, to simulate cleats.

In 1935, he was an All-American end at St. Mary's College and he did that despite a gridiron injury that almost cost him a leg. Punctured by a cleat, his leg became infected so badly that physicians pondered whether it would have to be removed.

"I'd rather be dead than miss the next season of football," he declared, and he made it.

A 200-team entry is a distinct possibility for the 30th annual Kingston Bowling Association championships, if Al Sonnenberg's well laid plans do not go awry.

As tournament manager, a plum that traditionally falls to the vice president of the KBA, Sonnenberg has deputized the entire executive board and other key tenpin figures for the most comprehensive canvas of KBA entries in the mid-Hudson area and other blandishments, the KBA tournament has never come up to expectations numerically. The 100-team plateau was achieved many years ago—the 200-team goal has remained illusive.

Many reasons have been advanced for the numerical failure of the KBA tournament—too many to list here. There is a nagging suspicion that an intensive recruiting drive such as Al Sonnenberg plans never has been remotely attempted. No one-man operation can do the job. Sonnenberg realizes this and surrounded himself with a huge staff of workers. If they don't fail him, the 200-team entry is within reach.

New Star on Horizon

The outstanding new women star of the 1966-67 season has to be Mary Kennedy. In addition to a 648 series, second only to Kay Cambone's 654, she has taken over the individual average leadership in two major women's leagues—with a whopping 178.22 in the Ferraro Women's Invitational and 170.2 in the Bowlerama Quads. Other top newcomers who have been moving steadily up the ladder are Joan Smith, who is whacking the mules at a 170 clip and Theresa Palladino with 167 in the Invitational. "New Names" so conspicuously absent last season are conspicuous by their brilliant performances to date... We haven't heard a word from the Ulster County Community College bowlers who have had four or five matches to date. Probably too modest to admit their string of successes.

Leaders Hold Firm

Seasonal high score leaders held firm during the week, with one major change in the men's top ten and two in the distaff section. Steve Leoce powered a 722 triple in the Summit Classic to move into second place behind Jack Farrell's 725. Kay Cambone of New Paltz continues to lead the women with 654. Mary Kennedy's 648 and Frances Eckerlein's 608 were newcomers to the list. Arlene Wilson's 253 took over second place among the women's solos, led by Kay Cambone's 263. Jim Amendola's 923 set a new seasonal record for four-game sets.

The scoring leaders to date:

(Men)	(Women)

Sentence Put Over

A driver booked on three charges after a police chase pleaded guilty today before City Judge Hubert A. Richter and sentence was put over to Nov. 19. Judy Posner, 17, of Miller's Lane Extension, was charged with failure to comply with a police order, with speeding and lacking an operator's license. She was paroled in the custody of her mother after court appearance today. Officers Joseph Kivlan and Joseph Feraca reported at 4:05 a. m. that they were chasing "a speeding vehicle" and Officers Lewis Keator and Jerry Vitek, in another car, were alerted. They reported apprehending the driver on Grand View Avenue at Miller's Lane.

Electricians Still Out on West Coast

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Electricians continued their strike against West Coast shipyards today despite a warning from the Federal Mediation Service that the week-old tieup "poses a potential danger to the nation's defense needs."

Both sides in the dispute agreed Thursday to join government talks in Washington, D.C., Tuesday aimed at ending the strike, which has halted much of the building and repair of ships for Viet Nam service.

"But there is one stipulation," said John Lappin, international representative of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers. "Unless there is some promise of progress we are only prepared to be there 48 hours. Then we'll have to get back and run the strike."

"Three psychologists have given up on me!"

Ga. Vote Goes To Federal Panel

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Georgia's undecided gubernatorial election went today to three federal judges who were asked to bar the Legislature from choosing a chief executive.

The federal panel hearing was snarled from two suits growing out of the election Tuesday where neither Republican Howard H. Callaway nor Democrat Lester G. Maddox received a majority of votes.

Write-in votes for former Gov. Ellis G. Arnall kept both major candidates below the 50 per cent mark, which, under the Georgia constitution, forces the General Assembly to choose between the top two.

With all the state's 1,893 precincts reporting, the vote was Maddox 445,359, or 47 per cent; Callaway 442,871, or 46.8 per cent; and Arnall 57,699 or 6 per cent.

The American Civil Liberties Union filed the first suit. It wanted the court to allow no election by the Legislature until it is fully reapportioned, which under an existing court order must be done by next May 1.

A bipartisan group of 10 voters filed the second suit Thursday, asking the court to call a runoff election and contending legislative choice of a governor is unconstitutional because it is "an invalid unit system of election."

Maddox, 51, a segregationist who sold his cafeteria rather than serve Negroes, is in favor of the predominantly Democratic Legislature choosing the governor.

Callaway, 39, heir to a textile fortune, prefers a runoff election.

Social Agencies' Information Day Set on Tuesday

Louis H. Schafer, president of the Ulster County Council of Social Agencies, announced today that "Information Day" will be held Tuesday, Nov. 15 at 12 noon at the YWCA. It will start with a luncheon.

Mrs. Freida Dingee, director of the Multi-Media Center in Kingston, will be the speaker. All organizations are urged to have representatives at this meeting. Friends are invited.

There are only a few centers such as Mrs. Dingee directs in New York State and not too many in the United States "which means that Kingston has something going that as many people as possible in our community should know about."

Schafer said, Mrs. Dingee will give pertinent information concerning the teaching at the center along with colored slides giving each spectator an eye view.

The center is set up for diagnosing disadvantaged pupils who appear to be functioning below their ability and are not considered dropouts also to prescribe a corrective program in addition to many other features of the center.

The project is for educating children of low income families that are in the pocket of the Consolidated School District.

This program is one that every council member should plan to attend, it was noted.

Union Threatens Picket Line as Custody Protest

A labor union representing over 12,000 State employees has threatened to set up picket lines to protest the recent action of Ulster County Welfare Commissioner Joseph Fitzsimmons in denying an Ulster County couple's request to formally adopt their four-year-old foster child.

Called "Heartless Act"

Al Wurf, executive director of New York State Employees Council 50, said that the union is ready to set up picket lines at the welfare commissioner's office to demonstrate the union's dismay at what he termed a heartless act.

The adoption case involves Mr. and Mrs. Michael Liuni of Kingston, who had sought to formally adopt Beth, their four-year-old foster child. Beth has lived with the family since she was five days old.

Wurf also expressed dismay at the fact that Commissioner Fitzsimmons based his denial on ethnic considerations, involving differences in coloring and national extraction between the Liuni's and Beth.

The union's protest came in the form of a telegram sent to Commissioner Fitzsimmons Nov. 10.

Council 50 represents several thousand state employees working in correctional and mental institutions in Ulster County and the surrounding area.

Here is the text of the council's telegram to Commissioner Fitzsimmons:

"We of New York State Employees Council 50, AFL-CIO, join with the thousands of residents in your area and across the state in protesting your action in refusing to allow Mr. and Mrs. Michael Liuni of Kingston to adopt their four-year-old foster child, Beth."

"Council 50, which represents more than 12,000 state employees and several thousand employees at state mental and correctional institutions in the Ulster County area, deplores the fact that your decision was based in part upon differences in coloring and national extraction."

"Council 50 is ready, if necessary, to set up picket lines at your office to demonstrate our dismay at this most heartless act."

The Long Island strike effects riders in Baldwin, Lynbrook, Freeport, Malverne, East Meadow, Hempstead, Hicksville, Roosevelt and Uniondale.

Employees averaged about $129 for a 44-hour week. They rejected Nov. 4 a company offer of a two-year contract with a 26-cent hourly pay increase. They demanded a 31-cent increase.

Troopers said Mrs. Klaver was driving the auto.

Plan Approved

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP)—A reorganization plan designed to foster racial balance in the city's public schools has been narrowly approved by the Buffalo Board of Education.

The board, at a special meeting Thursday, voted 4-3 to endorse a "5-3-4" grade arrangement proposed by School Supt. Joseph Manch.

Under the program, separate schools would be provided for pupils in kindergarten through the fifth grade, sixth through eighth grades and ninth through 12th grades.

The program, and a similar "4-4-4" arrangement devised by the state education commissioner, Dr. James E. Allen, are intended to draw middle-grade pupils from wider areas of the city, with a closer racial balance in the classroom as the result.

The plans entail some busing and have drawn sharp criticism from advocates of neighborhood schools.

Manch said the establishment of middle schools under the "4-4-4" plan was "the ultimate objective," but he provided no timetable.

The recommendations embodied in the "5-3-4" arrangement would be sent to Allen for his approval, Manch said.

Rainfall Ahead Of October in Cooper Lake Area

This month's rainfall, to date, already surpasses the October total in the area of Cooper Lake, the city's main reservoir. Edmund T. Cloonan, water department superintendent reported today.

A total of 3.26 inches was reported as of Wednesday and reservoir storage was then at 92 per cent of capacity with the supply at 2.4 feet below spillway level.

Last year at this time storage was at capacity, but in 1964 it was some 17 feet down. It began gaining some in December of that year and by the spring of 1965 had made up for the heavy loss, which had left facing the same emergency it contended with in 1957 when storage had dropped to nearly 20 feet below spillway level and the city acted toward, but did not have to complete arrangements to buy water from New York City's Ashokan system.

Says 1st Class Mail to Military To Be Airlifted

Postmaster Oscar V. Newkirk of Kingston, today announced that all first class mail, personal sound recordings and parcels weighing 5 pounds or less and measuring not more than 60 inches in length and width combined, will be airlifted on a space available basis between the United States and all military post offices overseas.

Also, under The Dulski Military Mail Act, signed by President Johnson on Nov. 2, second class publications such as newspapers and magazines published weekly or more often, and featuring current news of interest to the military, will be airlifted from San Francisco to the armed forces serving in Viet Nam.

Postmaster Newkirk explained that parcels such as those described, paid at surface rates, will be moved by surface transportation within the United States from the points of mailing to the port of embarkation. To speed up separation and delivery of these smaller parcels, Postmaster General Lawrence F. O'Brien directed all parcels be clearly marked upon acceptance at the post office with the letters SAM (surface airlift mail).

This will eliminate the task of reweighing and measuring the parcels at the San Francisco Concentration Center prior to dispatch to Viet Nam or other overseas military post offices.

Postmaster Newkirk also reminded mailers that Christmas parcels weighing 5 pounds and under, though they are given priority from San Francisco to Viet Nam on a space available basis, should be mailed no later than Dec. 1. Airmail, he said, should be sent no later than Dec. 10.

The deadline for Christmas packages weighing more than 5 pounds going to Viet Nam and other overseas military post offices by surface means was Nov. 10.

Check Car Fires

WILL OPEN THIS MONTH—Construction on the State of New York Bank at 80 Smith Avenue, corner of Grand Street, has progressed to the point where officials expect a grand opening of the 15,000-square foot structure late this month. The new building will offer all banking services and will have two drive-in windows as well as four tellers inside. It will be of brick-colonial construction with the brick coming from the Hutton Brick Yard at Kingston Point. The building site is expected to be extensively landscaped with over a dozen large shade trees and 100 small bushes. (Freeman photo by Wagen-fahr.)

Won Because . . .

The Liberal party announced its rejection of him. Rose told him he was "still in the running" for the nomination of the Liberal party, which always had supported Democratic candidates for governor.

O'Connor again called Roosevelt a "spoiler" — taking votes from the Democrats. "He accomplished what he set out to do," O'Connor said. "Now that he's done it, he's a man without a party."

Thinks Money Factor

O'Connor said there is "no question" that the money Rockefeller spent was a factor in the election results.

"It was an evil thing to spend as much as he did and I think it's an evil trend in elections. It's going to get to the point where only a millionaire can run for public office."

O'Connor and his wife leave by plane today for a 10-day vacation at Montego Bay, Jamaica.

Samuels called for revival of the state Democratic Advisory Council, which he helped to start in 1962, but which died quickly in the midst of party strife.

Samuels said a revived council should draft fresh policies on such issues as housing, civil rights, education, urban decay and state-federal relationships. He said it also should establish procedures for financing and winning elections.

Stratton proposed that a group be formed to reshape the state's Democratic party into a winning organization. "There must be a thorough overhaul of the state's Democratic leadership," he said in a statement issued in Washington.

Urges Caretaker Group

Stratton called for immediate establishment of a "Democratic caretaker group" headed by state Comptroller Arthur Levitt of Brooklyn, who again survived a Republican state victory and won a fourth term Tuesday.

He said other members of the group should be "our top elected officials," including Kennedy and the state's Democratic representatives in Congress. Stratton did not indicate whether he thought O'Connor should be included.

The Liberal party claimed it provided the margin of victory for three Democratic incumbent Congressmen and a Republican candidate for Congress.

It listed: Democrats Lester L. Wolff, third district, and Herbert Tenzer, fifth district, both in Nassau County; John G. Dow, 27th district, and Republican Daniel Button, 29th district both Upstate.

The party claimed credit also for electing Democrat William Brennan to the state Senate from Queens; and re-electing Democratic Assemblymen Stanley Harwood and Eli Wager in Nassau county, Herbert J. Miller in Queens and Victor Waryas in Poughkeepsie.

Rusk Is Speaker At Marlboro School

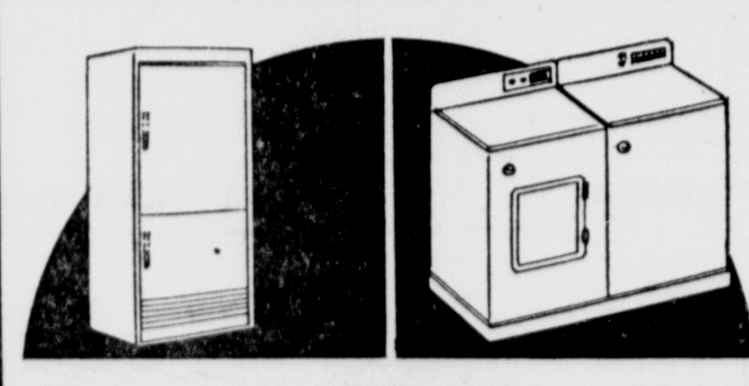

George Rusk Jr., a member of the law firm of Rusk, Rusk and Feeney of Marlboro and Kingston, discussed career possibilities of the legal secretary at the November meeting of the Marlboro Central High School Business Club.

A member of both the Ulster County Bar Association and the American Bar Association, Rusk outlined the duties and responsibilities of the work and stressed the need for accuracy, trustworthiness and legal background. He urged students interested in college or business school training. This way, he said, there would be a better understanding of legal terms and procedure.

A graduate of the Marlboro high school, Rusk was introduced by Mary Osterhout, of the program committee. The club sponsor is Mrs. Thelma L. Loth.
